Unresolved Tax Issues Still Face State Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 109th General Assembly goes back to work this week with an unenviable record of more than half a year devoted to thus far unresolved debate on a biennial tax-appropriations package for the state.

Taxes and state spending have occupied the Legislature for 23 of its 37 weeks, and according to one Senate leader, the issues are still far from being decided.

Senate Minority Leader Anthony Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, predicts that action in the upper chamber on the tax question won't be forthcoming until after the Ohio Reapportionment Board redraws House and Senate districts.

The board — controlled by Democrats by a 3-2 margin, met for the first time Friday. It must complete its work by the beginning of October.

The Senate will get back to taxes, Calabrese says, "around November."

The political maneuvering during the next few weeks will see Democrats striving for support of the Gilligan administration's personal income tax proposal in the Republican-controlled Legislature, while the GOP seeks to save its assembly seats under reapportionment.

Meanwhile, criticism of the budget-tax stalemate is mounting from outside the Capitol.

Guard Faces Severe Loss In Manpower

100,000 Men May Be Needed Before Summer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army National Guard faces a potential loss of about 100,000 men before next summer as draft-induced volunteers finish their obligated service, Pentagon officials say.

This will be offset only partially by enlistments of men with prior service in the regular Army and by 17 and 18-year-old recruits.

The prospect now worrying defense authorities is that the Guard will fall significantly below its authorized strength of 400,000 men for the first time in years, even if the draft is extended.

Draft calls are certain to be lower, so that few young men are likely to sign up with the Guard to avoid conscription into the Army.

Ferguson Says 4 School Districts May Close Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson said today that unless emergency levies are approved by voters that schools in four Ohio districts will be closed in November and December.

In a report released today, Ferguson said primary and secondary education systems in Findlay and Clyde are expected to be closed by mid-November, and Sidney and Wilmington by mid-December.

Voters had defeated three school levies in each school district.

trict except Wilmington, prior to requests for bankruptcy audits.

Although Wilmington voters rejected a special levy in 1969, a 2.1 mill levy was approved last May. However, crop failures, a hog cholera epidemic, and the reduction of personnel at the Wilmington Air Force base, were considered contributing factors to the school's financial plight.

Clyde voters are to vote Nov. 2 on a "special" .6 mill, five-year levy which would permit its schools to remain open for the rest of the year.

Economy Policy Faces Big Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Finance ministers abroad and Congress at home are putting President Nixon's new economic program to its first major tests since its dramatic birth just over a month ago.

The ministers of 10 major trading nations, including Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally, are back in their capitals for more reflection after meeting last week in London. They failed to produce an agreement on a firm footing for the world monetary system, sent reeling by the United States' cutting the dollar loose from gold and slapping a 10 percent charge on imports. They will try again later this month.

At home, Congress is starting surgery on Nixon's tax proposals, and the Cost of Living Council reports the wage-price freeze generally working well, although the council is discussing with the Justice Department possible legal action in 20 to 25 cases.

cluding a $2 billion shift of tax relief from business to low-earning individuals.

To keep alive legislation extending the draft, Nixon gave in on postponing a $2.4 billion pay raise for the military. Its effective date is Oct. 3, right in the middle of the 90-day price-wage freeze.

The prospect of a big military pay increase is sure to have a strong effect on congressional consideration of Nixon's plan to postpone for six months scheduled raises for the government's civilian employees.

The House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, on a largely party-line vote, has already approved a veto resolution, on which the House may vote in two weeks.

On the outcome rides $1.3 billion the administration counted on saving to offset the cost of economic stimulation in other directions.

2 Pathologists Confirm Gunshot Deaths At Attica

ATTICA, N.Y. (AP) — An autopsy report that nine slain hostages at Attica State Prison died of gunshot wounds has been confirmed by two pathologists asked by the state to re-examine the bodies.

Dr. Henry Siegel, Westchester County medical examiner, said his findings confirmed the report by Dr. John Edland, medical examiner for Monroe County. Edland's findings conflicted with earlier official statements that rebellious inmates at the maximum-security facility slit the throats of some of the hostages as a police assault began last Monday.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Correction Commissioner Russell G. Oswald earlier had supported Dr. Edland's findings that the nine hostages had died of gunshot wounds.

Dr. Siegel said any further information would have to come from the state's Task Force on Organized Crime, which asked him to undertake the re-examination.

Task force spokesman Edward Moran again refused Sunday to give specific answers to questions about the violence in the prison.

"The name of the game is to conduct our inquiry or investigation, in secret," Moran said. "The name of the game is to secure an indictment and successful prosecution. I will say nothing more than that."

The New York Times said today that the second pathologist, Dr. Michael Baden, deputy chief medical examiner of New York City, also had confirmed Dr. Edland's findings.

In all, 10 prison employees and 30 prisoners died in the violence that began at the prison Sept. 9. Officials said nine of the prison employees and 27 of the prisoners died when state troopers, sheriff's deputies, prison guards and National Guardsmen stormed the prison last Monday.

Environmental Suit Pondered

River Canal Ruling Could Be Landmark

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge is expected to make a decision this week in a case some environmentalists say will determine whether the Environmental Protection Act of 1969 has a bite to go with its bark.

The case involves a suit brought against the Corps of Engineers by the Environmental Defense Fund over a $387 million project to connect the Tennessee and Tombigbee rivers.

The fund, the same group that fought the Trans-Alaska pipeline and blocked the Cross-Florida Barge Canal, has asked U.S. Dist. Court Judge John Lewis Smith Jr. for a preliminary injunction halting work on the Tennessee canal until the Corps completes studies on the waterway's ecological impact.

The 1969 Environmental Protection Act requires that an environmental impact statement accompany major federal projects through the decision-making process.

The waterway project has drawn criticism from the Environmental Protection Agency, the Bureau of Sport Fisheries in the Interior Department and Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., who has accused the Corps of adopting a "dig now, study later" policy.

However, the Council on Environmental Quality, with whom the impact report must be filed, has voiced no objections and President Nixon has praised the project.

No Decision On Black's Successor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has considered his next appointment to the Supreme Court for one weekend but there has been no indication when a decision will be announced.

The White House disclosed Friday that Justice Hugo L. Black had retired after 34 years because of ill health, giving Nixon the opportunity to make his third appointment to the court and solidify its tenuous conservative majority.

"I have no idea, no way of knowing," said a White House press aide when asked whether the President was near a decision following a weekend stay at nearby Camp David, Md. Nixon reportedly spent part of his time studying a list of seven potential successors.

Names of those under consideration have not been made public.

Nixon's first two appointees, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackmun, are generally considered the most conservative members on the nine-man court.

If, as expected, Nixon appoints another conservative, the appointment would solidify a shift away from the judicial activism undertaken under the leadership of former Chief Justice Earl Warren—and generally supported by Blackmun and Blackmun already command a one-vote majority on many issues.

New Treasurer Of U.S. Chosen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today nominated Romana Banuelos, of Mexican-American origin, to be the new Treasurer of the United States and got a sample signature of how she will sign America's currency.

Mrs. Banuelos, who started her career running a tortilla stand and is now chairman of the board of directors of Pan American National Bank of East Los Angeles, will succeed the late Dorothy Andrews Kabis in the $36,000-a-year job.

The post has been traditionally filled by a woman; its chief function is to sign currency.

Ohio Population Figures Revised

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. Census Bureau says Ohio had 4,496 more inhabitants last year than it had first determined.

Revised figures from the bureau have been sent to Secretary of State Ted Brown showing the Buckeye State with a 1970 population of 10,656,483. The original report was 10,652,017.

Brown said the city showing the greatest increase under the revised figures is Youngstown, up from 139,788 to 140,090.

Glass Workers Go On Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The American Flint Glass Workers Union struck six plants in three states today and said it virtually halted production of fine table and art glassware in the United States.

More than 2,000 glass workers are affected.

Robert Newell, international vice president of the union, said the six joined three other plants already on strike. Affected plants are in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Egypt's Cabinet Is Reshuffled By Sadat Order

CAIRO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat watched today as Egypt's new streamlined 29-man Cabinet was sworn in. One appointment was aimed at improving Egyptian-Soviet relations.

The Cabinet, five men less than the old one, and with four new faces, was formed following the adoption of a new constitution earlier this month.

Egypt's ambassador to Moscow for 10 years, Murad Ghaleb, has been appointed minister of state for foreign affairs with the special assignment of improving Soviet-Egyptian relations.

It was the fourth cabinet formed by Premier Mahmoud Fawzi since Sadat appointed him a year ago. The president dissolved the previous group of ministers on Sept. 11, after Egyptians overwhelmingly approved a new constitution calling in part for government reorganization.

Hot Time Ahead For U.N. If Peking Gets In

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

With Red China now apparently assured of seats in the General Assembly and the Security Council, it seems likely that hot times are ahead for the United Nations.

Over the years, Peking has been one of the organization's severest critics. It would be far from surprising if the Red Chinese, after feeling their way about, proceeded with a campaign that would attempt to place the so-called Third World in conflict with the United States and the Soviet Union.

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, in a study called "Issues before the 26th General Assembly," sees a possibility that Peking will assume the role of champion and protector of small nations against alleged machinations by the Russians and Americans.

This might mean, it adds, that "the two superpowers might be forced to change their indifferent attitude toward the smaller states, in order to maintain their own influence in the United Nations."

For example, China could demand that disarmament talks no longer be the exclusive province of the big powers. Peking could insist that a commission be set up to include smaller nations, perhaps a large number of them, to talk about such things as disarmament and nuclear weapons. That might not enhance the chances for any meaningful agreement, but it would be a great opportunity for peking politicking.

The Middle East is included in the area which Premier Chou En-lai calls the "medium and small nations." Red China long has been poking about the edges of that chronic crisis and giving aid and propaganda support to some Arab organizations.

As a U.N. member, Red China could thrust herself more forcefully into the Middle East situation. It could insist that the four power talks be converted to five power talks.

Defense officials say a weakening of the Guard has serious implications for national security. The Guard, they say, has been given a more important role in the nation's war plans than ever before since the Regular Army is being slashed to its smallest size in more than 10 years.

The National Guard is starting a heavy recruiting campaign. But officials said they are not optimistic, despite Defense Department plans to ask Congress for money to pay enlistment and re-enlistment bonuses and to provide a number of incentives to join the Guard.

The wave of losses this fiscal year will come from the drop-off of most of the young men who enlisted in the Guard in 1965, at a time when the United States was building up for the war in Vietnam with increased draft calls.

General's Barber Finds Duty In Viet Better Than Home

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer
CHU LAI, VIETNAM (AP) — When Glenn Hood went to war the gang at Earl Zeiner's bar-ber "hop threw a farewell party with visions of glory combat in the jungles of Vietnam.

"Since then more than 100 showgirls have disrobed in his bedroom. Generals call him by his first name, colonels curtsy his favor. He sleeps in late, cuts in the officers' club and has private, air conditioned quarters.

"The 21-year-old soldier has never fired a gun in Vietnam. To him the enemy is a bald pate.

"Hood is the general's barber, one of the most influential men at Americal Division headquar-ters.

"It's the Samson complex," he gloats. "No one messes with the man behind the shears. If the boys at Zeiner's could see me now!"

Hood came to Chu Lai from Coulterville, Ill. He started as a medical supply clerk, but a computer showed he'd gone to Belleville Barber College.

"At first I didn't want to do it, me a Spec. 4 cutting a gen-eral's hair. But they pressured me into it."

So Hood moved from bar- racks into two rooms behind the stage of the officers' club. He discovered that his bedroom also served as a changing room for show girls who entertain there every Saturday.

"At first it blew my mind, the whole setup," he said.

"Now after eight months of having naked women in my room I'm kind of used to it.

"Of course I'm not supposed to be in there when they're dressing."

Although his only assigned duty is trimming three generals and their staffs, Hood wel- comes all officers and civilian contractors based at Chu Lai.

"I cut about 80 or 90 heads a week," he said. "I'm not allowed to ask for payment but everyone tips about $1 a head. They know that if they don't they'll get a lousy haircut next time. I can make a guy look real stupid without him even knowing it."

"Most of them try to be nice to me. But I certainly don't have to be nice to them if I don't want to."

"When a man's in my chair he's my equal, whether he's wearing one stripe or two stars. As a barber it's my job to draw them out, make conversation, and I think I succeed pretty well. They confide in me, even the generals."

2 Accidents Investigated

"Sheriff's Deputies are in- vestigating two one-car ac- cidents occurring Friday night in Pickaway County.

"Willard E. Faulk, Route 4, was cited by Deputy Lowell Ferguson for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated after he lost control of his car on State Route 56, 6 1/2 miles southeast of the city Friday.

"He suffered lacerations to his face, head, neck and ear in the wreck.

"Dawn Morrison, Williamsport, was taken to Berger Hospital with contusions of her head and abrasions to her knee and thumbs when she ap- parently lost control of her car on Stonerock Road, nine miles west of Circleville at 1:10 a.m. Friday.

"No charges were filed by investigating deputy Lowell Ferguson.

ULCERS

Emotional tension and psy- chological conflicts are shar- ing the blame as the cause of ulcers, and while emotions do play a part, other factors are definitely involved in the development of peptic ulcers.

Vertebral subluxations, or misalignments, may cause tense, over-active nerves that have a direct bearing on the stomach and intestine. If the vertebrae and impinged nerves are left uncorrected, normal function of the digestive tract is lost . . . excessive acid secretion, spasms, and ulcer formation may be the end result. This explains the effective- ness of modern chiropractic care in ulcer conditions. For the correction of ulcer causing nerve lesions and a minimizing of associated emotional tensions, a doctor of chiropractic should be consulted in these cases.

Williamsport Fete Named For Historic Landmark

At 5 p.m. Wednesday, ceremonies in the village of Williamsport will mark the official opening of the first Sulphur Springs Festival, hoped to be the beginning of a long series of similar fall events there.

Following the kickoff, the village will be opened for five days of entertainment of every sort — contests, games, rides, parades, kings and queens and much more.

Saturday is being promoted as the big day of the fair, with an all-day flea market to be held on the Williamsport School grounds, a parade and a special price for the rides which will be set up in the festival area, south of Route 22.

There will be free country and western music provided by a local, experienced band and a street dance both Friday and Saturday nights. Wednesday and Thursday evenings have been reserved for cooking contests and judging of the Little Prince and Princess, Pre-Teen and Teen King and Queens and their attendants who will reign over the festival. Thirty local and area businesses have given their support to the Williamsport fete and are sponsoring trophies and plaques for the different contest win- ners.

THE Williamsport festival was given its name from an old village landmark — a spring that gushed cold mineral waters that had a peculiar odor. From early times during the settle- ment of that area, the springs provided a water supply for area residents that was con- sidered healthful.

An 1896 edition of the Cir- cleville newspaper contained an advertisement extolling the virtues of the sulphur waters:

"The invalid as well as the fashionable public, ought to know, that at WILLIAMSPORT, in this county, ten miles west of Circleville, is a beautiful chalybeate SPRING which, for its medicinal qualities is equalled by FEW, and sur- passed by NONE, in the West. Comfortable quarters may be had at Williamsport, for a limited number of Visitors; and when the qualities of the waters shall have become sufficiently known abroad, we have no doubt that Williamsport will become not only a fashionable resort in the Summer season, but that its waters will be sought by the afflicted, as a means of relief for many of the ills that flesh is heir to." Still more extensive accommodations for strangers would doubtless at the present time induce a proportionable accession of visitors at the spring."

Prior to relocation of the Route 22 bridge over Deer Creek in the early 1950s, the spring in its stone foundation was still used. When the road was rebuilt, however, the foundation was torn down, the spring capped and now lies underwater. One of the in- tentions of the village is to have the historic landmark rebuilt. Proceeds from future Sulphur Spring Festivals may be used to finance this project.

In January, 1970, fire destroyed the old Sulphur Spring hotel in Williamsport, a remnant from the spring's — and village's — more bustling days, so it no longer stands in tribute to days long past when sulphur springs was a name known throughout this area and the Pickaway County village was a "health resort."

Cases Heard For Cincinnati Area Men

James Loft Iverson, a Cin- cinnati area man picked up last year on weapons charges, ap- peared before Judge William Ammer in common pleas court today.

Iverson, already having a criminal record, was ap- prehended in Circleville Nov. 21, 1970 for carrying a concealed weapon. He was one of three men who had been observed purchasing a loaf of bread at Lutz's Cardinal Market on N. Court St. and acting "suspici- ously."

When Sheriff Deputy Bill Dountz stopped the car, he discovered the trio had stuffed a gun into the loaf of bread and had another in the car. Iverson today pleaded guilty to a reduction in charge for carrying a weapon and was fined $200, placed under probation for a year and or- dered to stay out of Pickaway County. A 30-day jail sentence was suspended.

His two companions at the time of his arrest have not been brought to trial here. One, Roosevelt Collins, is in a federal prison in Minnesota. The location of David Lee Collins is still unknown and a warrant is out for his arrest.

Another Cincinnati man's plea for release from Lebanon prison was taken under consideration by the judge. City Hit Hard By Vandalism

Eight separate incidents of vandalism were reported to the Circleville Police Department during the weekend.

Mrs. Hill, Morris Trailer Court, told city police vandals apparently released a stop on a 100-gallon fuel oil tank Thursday night, allowing the oil to escape.

Donna Rutter, 722 S. Washington St. reported an unknown youth tried to steal a bicycle from her backyard Thursday but fled when she attempted to pursue him.

Charles A. Hill, 320 Long St., notified police officials when rocks were thrown through the left side window of his car, parked in front of his house, Thursday.

Joe Wagner, 541 E. Mound St., reported Friday someone crawled through the window of his house. The thieves were apparently frightened before anything was taken.

Robert Selvage, 126 E. Mill St., had gasoline taken from two of his cars Saturday night.

Harold Smith Jr., 143 Town St., told police vandals scratched and dented the side of his car Saturday night by pelting it with rocks.

Sheldon Winner, 119 S. Pickaway St., filed a complaint when vandals broke windows in a truck and smashed windows on a tractor at a gravel pit on State Route 56 Saturday night.

The Coca-Cola Co., S. Scioto St., was victimized Saturday night when someone shattered the windshield and left door glass of a truck parked in the plant yard.

Conviction Supported In Appeal

Judgment of the local court stands in a criminal suit in- volving Robert Frank Flowers Jr.

Flowers was arrested following a break-in at Tinks Tavern and sent to prison after pleading guilty in a court trial. He appealed his conviction claiming his rights were violated and that the wording of the bill of information he signed was improperly worded and did not actually charge him with a crime as stated in the Ohio law.

Judges Home Abele and Gordon Gray of the Fourth District Court of Appeals agreed in an opinion filed today here that the defendant's rights were properly upheld and the wor- ding of the law form provided adequate information to charge Flowers of a criminal act under law.

Judge Earl Stephenson filed a dissenting opinion to the second decision of the other judges but agreed with them on the issue of the prisoner's rights.

New Holland Seeks Federal Funds For Sewage Plant

Pickaway County Com- missioners today approved an application by the village of New Holland for a federal grant and loan for the purpose of constructing a sewerage system.

Dick T. Tootle, chairman of the board of commissioners said today the commissioners would do everything possible to help the village obtain the necessary funds for the system.

Total cost of the plant and collection lines, plus engineering is $710,000 ac- cording to the preliminary planning prepared to submit with the application for the federal funds.

New Holland has a population 798 persons. The projected population growth by the year 1990 is 1,200 according to the application.

Ned Harden, chairman of the Pickaway County Planning commission, Prosecuting At- torney Roy Huffer and com- missioners Tootle and Charles Morris met today to discuss revising rules and regulations for the Pickaway County Planning Commission.

Tootle said the township trustees would be asked to assist in revision of the rules.

Annexation of a large area of land adjacent to the east boundary of Circleville was discussed with J. Boyd Stout but no petition for annexation was presented.

The area discussed included over 1,000 acres. Owners of some of the larger tracts in- volved were Charles H. Walters, Charles and Sarah Pugsley, Allen and Norma Jean Ankrom, Robert and Grace Call, Pickaway Country Club, Russell and Cecile Palm, Walter and Mary Richards, Martha M. Brinker.

Army Asks Free Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is asking the broadcast industry for five to ten times as much free television time as it has been getting for recruit- ment announcements.

The personal letter to the heads of broadcast networks cited budget restrictions in the Army's paid prime-time adver- tising campaign.

Secretary of the Army Robert F. Froehke said in the letter that stations "are licensed by the United States government" and "should provide effective public service time to support essential national programs."

"Therefore, I turn to you for assistance in increasing sub- stantially the amount of public- service announcements, par- ticularly in prime time, pro- vided by your network and its affiliated stations to support re- cruiting," he said.

"I am not thinking in terms of just doubling the weight of public-service advertising; I am asking for a five to tenfold increase."

today joined the ranks of those urging the Senate to act on the tax question.

"The state's failure to meet its responsibility is causing irreparable harm to Ohio's neediest citizens," council pres- ident William Ginn of Cleveland said. The council supports both a personal and a corporate in- come tax.

The House Finance - Appro- priations Committee on Tues- day will open hearings on the fifth interim budget, since last July 1, this one calling for $151.6 million in spending be- tween Sept. 18 and the end of the month. Two-thirds of the appropriations would be earmarked for welfare and school foundation payments.

Republicans may seek to amend the measure to provide funds for the reopening of 46 state parks ordered shut by Governor John Gilligan as part of a fiscal austerity program this month.

One major piece of legislation expected to be sent to the House floor this week is an om- nibus strip mining bill nearing completion before the Environ- ment and Natural Resources Committee, which meets Tues- day night.

The bill, calling for stricter regulation of strip mining and land reclamation, has broad support in the House, but is likely to encounter stiff opposi- tion in the Senate.

Two Men Fined By Municipal Court

Lawrence A. Snyder, Route 2 was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Friday when he was found guilty of entering land belonging to McKinley Kirk with the intent to steal gasoline.

Richard E. Ramey, 216 Huston St. forfeited $24 bond when clocked by aircraft speeding 75 miles per hour in a 60 zone.

General's Barber Finds Duty in Viet Better Than Home

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer
CHU LAI, VIETNAM (AP) — When Glenn Hood went to war the gang at Earl Zeiner's barber shop threw a farewell party with visions of glory combat in the jungles of Vietnam.

"Since then more than 100 showgirls have disrobed in his bedroom. Generals call him by his first name, colonels carry his favor. He sleeps in late, and in the officers' club and has private, air conditioned quarters.

"The 21-year-old soldier has never fired a gun in Vietnam. To him the enemy is a bald pate.

"Hood is the general's barber, one of the most influential men at American Division headquarters.

"It's the Samson complex," he gloats. "No one messes with the man behind the shears. If the boys at Zeiner's could see me now!"

Hood came to Chu Lai from Coulterville, Ill. He started as a medical supply clerk, but a computer showed he'd gone to Belleville Barber College.

"At first I didn't want to do it, me a Spec. 4 cutting a general's hair. But they pressured me into it."

So Hood moved from barracks into two rooms behind the stage of the officers' club. He discovered that his bedroom also served as a changing room for show girls who entertain there every Saturday.

"At first it blew my mind, the whole setup," he said. "Now after eight months of having naked women in my room I'm kind of used to it."

"Of course I'm not supposed to be in there when they're dressing."

Although his only assigned duty is trimming three generals and their staffs, Hood welcomes all officers and civilian contractors based at Chu Lai.

"I cut about 80 or 90 heads a week," he said. "I'm not allowed to ask for payment but everyone tips about $1 a head. They know that if they don't they'll get a lousy haircut next time. I can make a guy look real stupid without him even knowing it."

"Most of them try to be nice to me. But I certainly don't have to be nice to them if I don't want to."

"When a man's in my chair he's my equal, whether he's wearing one stripe or two stars. As a barber it's my job to draw them out, make conversation, and I think I succeed pretty well. They confide in me, even the generals."

OSU Swine Herdsman Dies At Age 51

Mr. Harold E. Delong, 51, swine herdsman at Ohio State University for over 10 years, died Saturday in University Hospital, Columbus.

A native of Chillicothe, Mr. Delong managed swine farms near Kingston, Washington, C. H. and Cedar Point, Md., before Ohio State University 1963.

He judged the 4-H swine show at the Pickaway County Fair a number of times, including the show at the 1971 fair.

He was a member of the Ohio and National Hampshire Breeders Assn. and was a past state secretary of the organization.

Born April 30, 1920, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Delong. His mother survives in Chillicothe.

He is also survived by his widow, Mary Alice Delong, Columbus; two sons, Michael, Norwalk; Scott, of the home; one daughter, Miss Eileen Delong, of the home; three brothers, Wayne, Kingston; Jack and Donald, both of Chillicothe; two sisters, Mrs. Quentin Morgan and Mrs. Clarence Stauffer, both of Chillicothe.

Funeral services were conducted 1 p.m. today at Schoedinger Northwest Chapel, Columbus, with the Rev. John Klein officiating.

The family suggests memorial contributions may be made to the Central Ohio Heart Branch, 535 E. Broad St., Columbus.

Larceny Suspect Bound To Jury

William D. Renner, Columbus, apprehended Friday after allegedly stealing a tire from Dunlop Tire Store, was bound to the Grand Jury Friday afternoon on $1500 bond to answer the grand larceny charge.

His alleged accomplice, John W. Hess, also of Columbus, pleaded not guilty to the charge. His case will be continued Thursday.

Strip Mine Bills Eyed By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hearings opened today on all pending federal legislation designed either to control or abolish strip mining in the nation's 23 coal-producing states.

ULCERS

Emotional tension and psychological conflicts are sharing the blame as the cause of ulcers, and while emotions do play a part, other factors are definitely involved in the development of peptic ulcers. Vertebral subluxations, or misalignments, may cause tense, over-active nerves that have a direct bearing on the nerve and blood supply to the stomach and intestine. If the vertebrae and impinged nerves are left uncorrected, normal function of the digestive tract is lost. Excessive acid secretion, spasms, and ulcer formation may be the end result. This explains the effectiveness of modern chiropractic care in ulcer conditions. For the correction of ulcer causing nerve lesions and a minimizing of associated emotional tensions, a doctor of chiropractic should be consulted in these cases.

Williamsport Fete Named For Historic Landmark

At 5 p.m. Wednesday, ceremonies in the village of Williamsport will mark the official opening of the first Sulphur Springs Festival, hoped to be the beginning of a long series of similar fall events there.

Following the kickoff, the village will be opened for five days of entertainment of every sort — contests, games, rides, parades, kings and queens and much more.

Saturday is being promoted as the big day of the fair, with an all-day flea market to be held on the Williamsport School grounds, a parade and a special price for the rides which will be set up in the festival area, south of Route 22.

There will be free country and western music provided by a local, experienced band and a street dance both Friday and Saturday nights. Wednesday and Thursday evenings have been reserved for cooking contests and judging of the Little Prince and Princess, Pre-Teen and Teen King and Queens and their attendants who will reign over the festival. Thirty local and area businesses have given their support to the Williamsport fete and are sponsoring trophies and plaques for the different contest winners.

THE Williamsport festival was given its name from an old village landmark — a spring that gushed cold mineral waters that had a peculiar odor. From early times during the settlement of that area, the springs provided a water supply for area residents that was considered healthful.

An 1886 edition of the Circleville newspaper contained an advertisement extolling the virtues of the sulphur waters:

"The invalid as well as the fashionable public, ought to know, that at WILLIAMSPORT, in this county, ten miles west of Circleville, is a beautiful chalybeate SPRING which, for its medicinal qualities is equalled by NONE, in the West. Comfortable quarters may be had at Williamsport, for a limited number of visitors; and when the qualities of the waters shall have become sufficiently known abroad, we have no doubt that Williamsport will become not only a fashionable resort in the Summer season, but that its waters will be sought by the afflicted, as a means of relief for many of the ills that flesh is heir to." Still more extensive accommodations for strangers would doubtless at the present time induce a proportionable accession of visitants at the spring.

Prior to relocation of the Route 22 bridge over Deer Creek in the early 1950s, the spring in its stone foundation was still used. When the road was rebuilt, however, the foundation was torn down, the spring capped and now lies underwater. One of the intentions of the village is to have the historic landmark rebuilt. Proceeds from future Sulphur Spring Festivals may be used to finance this project.

In January, 1970, fire destroyed the old Sulphur Spring hotel in Williamsport, a remnant from the spring's — and village's — more bustling days, so it no longer stands in tribute to days long past when sulphur springs was a name known throughout this area and the Pickaway County village was a "health resort."

In celebrating the village's history and its present, Williamsport citizens, community and fraternal organizations and businesses are sponsoring the five-day fete beginning Wednesday.

City Hit Hard By Vandalism

Eight separate incidents of vandalism were reported to the Circleville Police Department during the weekend.

Mrs. Hill, Morris Trailer Court, told city police vandals apparently released a stop on a 100-gallon fuel oil tank Thursday night, allowing the oil to escape.

Donna Rutter, 722 S. Washington St. reported an unknown youth tried to steal a bicycle from her backyard Thursday but fled when she attempted to pursue him.

Charles A. Hill, 320 Long St., notified police officials when rocks were thrown through the left side window of his car, parked in front of his house, Thursday.

Joe Wagner, 541 E. Mound St., reported Friday someone crawled through the window of his house. The thieves were apparently frightened before anything was taken.

Robert Selva, 126 E. Mill St., had gasoline taken from two of his cars Saturday night.

Harold Smith Jr., 143 Town St., told police vandals scratched and dented the side of his car Saturday night by pelting it with rocks.

Sheldon Winner, 119 S. Pickaway St., filed a complaint when vandals broke windows in a truck and smashed windows on a tractor at a gravel pit on State Route 56 Saturday night.

The Coca-Cola Co., S. Scioto St., was victimized Saturday night when someone shattered the windshield and left door glass of a truck parked in the plant yard.

Conviction Supported In Appeal

Judgment of the local court stands in a criminal suit involving Robert Frank Flowers Jr.

Flowers was arrested following a break-in at Tinks Tavern and sent to prison after pleading guilty in a court trial. He appealed his conviction claiming his rights were violated and that the wording of the bill of information he signed was improperly worded and did not actually charge him with a crime as stated in the Ohio law.

Judges Home Abele and Gordon Gray of the Fourth District Court of Appeals agreed in an opinion filed today here that the defendant's rights were properly upheld and the wording of the law form provided adequate information to charge Flowers of a criminal act under law.

Judge Earl Stephenson filed a dissenting opinion to the second decision of the other judges but agreed with them on the issue of the prisoner's rights.

New Holland Seeks Federal Funds For Sewage Plant

Pickaway County Commissioners today approved an application by the village of New Holland for a federal grant and loan for the purpose of constructing a sewerage system.

Dick T. Tootle, chairman of the board of commissioners said today the commissioners would do everything possible to help the village obtain the necessary funds for the system.

Total cost of the plant and collection lines, plus engineering is $710,000 according to the preliminary planning prepared to submit with the application for the federal funds.

New Holland has a population of 788 persons. The projected population growth by the year 1990 is 1,200 according to the application.

Ned Harden, chairman of the Pickaway County Planning commission, Prosecuting Attorney Roy Huffer and commissioners Tootle and Charles Morris met today to discuss revising rules and regulations for the Pickaway County Planning Commission.

Tootle said the township trustees would be asked to assist in revision of the rules.

Annexation of a large area of land adjacent to the east boundary of Circleville was discussed with J. Boyd Stout but no petition for annexation was presented.

The area discussed included over 1,000 acres. Owners of some of the larger tracts involved were Charles H. Walters, Charles and Sarah Pugsley, Allen and Norma Jean Ankrom, Robert and Grace Call, Pickaway County Club, Russell and Cecile Palm, Walter and Mary Richards, Martha M. Brinker.

Army Asks Free Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is asking the broadcast industry for five to ten times as much free television time as it has been getting for recruitment announcements.

The personal letter to the heads of broadcast networks cited budget restrictions in the Army's paid prime-time advertising campaign.

Secretary of the Army Robert F. Froehke said in the letter that stations "are licensed by the United States government" and "should provide effective public service time to support essential national programs."

"Therefore, I turn to you for assistance in increasing substantially the amount of public-service announcements, particularly in prime time, provided by your network and its affiliated stations to support recruiting," he said. "I am not thinking in terms of just doubling the weight of public-service advertising; I am asking for a five to ten-fold increase."

today joined the ranks of those urging the Senate to act on the tax question.

"The state's failure to meet its responsibility is causing irreparable harm to Ohio's neediest citizens," council president William Ginn of Cleveland said. The council supports both a personal and a corporate income tax.

The House Finance — Appropriations Committee on Tuesday will open hearings on the fifth interim budget, since last July 1, this one calling for $151.6 million in spending between Sept. 18 and the end of the month. Two-thirds of the appropriations would be earmarked for welfare and school foundation payments.

Republicans may seek to amend the measure to provide funds for the reopening of 46 state parks ordered shut by Governor John Gilligan as part of a fiscal austerity program this month.

One major piece of legislation expected to be sent to the House floor this week is an omnibus strip mining bill nearing completion before the Environment and Natural Resources Committee, which meets Tuesday night.

The bill, calling for stricter regulation of strip mining and land reclamation, has broad support in the House, but is likely to encounter stiff opposition in the Senate.

Mysteries Of Caesarea Probed By Archeologists

By HAL McCLUR
SEDOT YAM, Israel (AP) — An American archeological team is utilizing the tools of modern science to solve the long buried mysteries of the Roman city of Caesarea.

It's a race against time — and bananas.
"We have to preserve the antiquities and stop encroaching agriculture, mainly banana plantations," explains Dr. Robert Bul, expedition leader.

Caesarea was built by King Herod the Great in the first century before Christ as the capital of Roman Palestine.

It was one of the largest Roman colonial cities in the Middle East, sprawling over 8,000 acres on the Mediterranean coast, about half way between what is now Tel Aviv and Haifa. Its population may have reached a half-million.

After the Romans came the Persians and the Byzantines, who were in turn vanquished by Arab's desert warriors under the sword of Islam.

Europe's crusading knights conquered Caesarea in the 12th century and held it on and off the next 200 years until its final destruction by the Arabs in 1291.

Most of Caesarea's past grandeur lies buried under the drifting sands today. Only a few Byzantine columns and statues and the squat Crusader fortress are tourist attractions.

Except for a fine Herodian theater, excavated and partially restored by an Italian team in the mid-1960s, and a crumbling aqueduct north of town, nothing can be seen of the original Roman city.

Bull finds it incredible that there has been no real attempt — until now — to uncover Roman Caesarea.

"Lord knows what we will find here," he adds.

For it was only 10 years ago that archeologists discovered a Roman inscription mentioning the name Pontius Pilate.

It was the first archeological evidence of the actual existence of the procurator of Judea under whose rule, from 26-36 A.D. the crucifixion of Jesus occurred.

Bull who is director of the William F. Albright Institute of Archeological Research in Jerusalem and head of Drew University's archeological department, has collected a team of 50 volunteers, primarily students from Drew and Los Angeles' Occidental College. They receive credit for the dig.

"We are digging with teaspoons as it were, so slowly it is agonizing," says the stocky, balding archeologist. "We're sifting everything coming out of there — gems, pottery, coins, everything that is a dating clue."

Bull hopes to write the city's history eventually, after more excavation. Among the structures buried are a giant amphitheater and hippodrome, the locations of which are known, and a temple.

Bull also is using scientific aids in his search. These include infrared photography and measuring the earth's magnetic field and its resistivity.

Bull's team moves a fluxgate magnetometer across the fields to register variations in magnetic force, recorded when it encounters any anomaly, such as a wall buried under the sand. It is the first time this instrument has been used for such exploration in the area.

Plotting the various variations on a chart hopefully will yield the street patterns.

The team also plans to send an electric current through metal probes imbedded in the earth. The resistance encountered can be measured because electricity travels at one rate through sand and at another through stone. "Hopefully, I can get still another picture of what's beneath us," Bull said.

A third method to help find the streets will be to take infrared photos of Caesarea from the air at night as the earth cools. Sand quickly emits heat while buried stones hold it back. "The photos again should give us a pattern," the archeologist said.

"We still have another ace in the hole, and I mean that literally," Bull said. "I mean the sewers."

Caesarea had a unique sewer system, flushed daily by the sea. The flooding tide would come up into the sewers beneath the city and the ebb tide would flush them out.

Some of the sewers were nine feet in diameter, "big enough to drive a Jeep through," Bull says. He has located several sewer entrances, which have been blocked by sand. Bull said he could trace the sewers back under the city to locate the streets. "Roman engineers usually built sewers beneath the streets," he said.

Pilot Injured In Plane Crash

DAYTON (AP) — The pilot of a light plane was in critical condition at Dayton's Good Samaritan Hospital today after his single-engine craft crashed into the front yard of a home in nearby Phillipsburg.

Two passengers in the plane were also injured in the crash.

Police said the aircraft, piloted by 52-year-old Robert Wilcox, had just taken off from the Phillipsburg airport Sunday afternoon when it struck a tree and caught fire in the yard. The house, damaged by the blaze, was unoccupied at the time.

Equality Of Stupidity

A Harvard professor has predicted that before many decades have passed, America will develop a caste society in which the "haves" will have high IQ's. The higher your IQ — and that Dr. Richard Herrnstein figures as 85 per cent a genetic factor, 15 per cent environment — the higher your status.

Dr. Herrnstein readily admits that native intelligence is not the only factor determining ability or success, but it is his contention that IQ is a sine qua non in this respect. His conclusions are based on a comprehensive study of scientific literature on the subjects of heredity, mental ability and success in life.

What can be done about those who would be trapped at birth in the lower strata of what Dr. Herrnstein calls the "hereditary meritocracy"?

He has no answers to that crucial question. "What can I say?" he asks.

If Dr. Herrnstein is right, the concept of egalitarianism is moribund. People, it will turn out, are not born equal, and equal opportunity will become meaningless because of individual variation in ability to take advantage of that opportunity.

One suspects, however, that egalitarianism is not a concept that will die easily. The Western, and particularly the American, world has struggled too long to realize it.

Easily imagined are laws requiring integration of the stupid with the smart, prohibition discrimination on the basis of qualification.

Actions Belie Words

In its annual report on the world military situation, the London-based Institute of Strategic Studies has some sobering findings for the free world. The Soviet Union, despite its participation in disarmament negotiations, continues to expand both its nuclear and conventional war capabilities.

Soviet military manpower is heading for a total of 3.5 million, while the United States is dropping its level to 2.5 million. The Soviets also have passed the U. S. in the number of long-range, land-based missiles and is threatening to overtake the American lead in missile submarines by 1974.

Nor is the Kremlin neglecting its civilian population while the military expands. A well organized and expanded civil defense program has been put into effect which provides 115 hours of civil defense instruction to each school child by the time he completes the 10th grade. In their defense program, those Muscovites don't overlook a thing.

The Soviet Union may be talking disarmament, but it is not practicing it in any recognizable form.

Policy Confusion

The United States is having difficulties abroad with both friends and foes. More with the former than the latter and more with the smaller than the larger.

Certainly one reason is the way U. S. policy tries to marry idealistic notions with realistic facts. Washington wants democracy to flourish, especially in nations where it (supposedly) has strong influence. So American pressure is put on leaders, but this often doesn't take and there is a reversion to various forms of strongman control.

Viewed from the long-range standpoint, these nations should have self-determination, free elections, representation, etc. But in the short run, the dictatorial regimes are more effective in meeting the threat immediately at hand.

The basic dilemma is one of means and ends, intertwined with idealism and realism. From a power standpoint, most U. S. officials prefer to be realistic. But others support the idealistic approach — "making the world safe for democracy," even a world that doesn't want it.

Apparently, the U. S. now is trying to do both. And with the result that it succeeds in doing neither very well.

The movie man raised the ante to $1,000, then $1,500, and finally, $2,500, but each time would get the courteous reply, "Ross has again met the increase."

There followed a long interim of silence, then the mogul wrote again—but this time his offer was down to $1,500. Thurber wrote back, "Sorry, but Ross has met the decrease!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Can you tell me all the information that is available about intrauterine devices for prevention of pregnancy?

Mrs. N. P., R. I. Dear Mrs. P.: The amount of literature on this subject would fill encyclopedias. Hundreds of scientific articles are published each year about newer and safer things to be introduced into the uterus as a contraceptive.

Some are made of metal. Others are a wide variety of plastics. All are made in many different shapes and forms.

Specialists in disorders of women carefully choose the patients to whom they prescribe this method of contraception.

I am certain that you can get pamphlets on the subject from your local Board of Health and from a Branch of Planned Parenthood.

Will two martinis before every day affect anyone with arthritis?

Mr. E. L. J., Pa. Dear Mr. J.: I hope you eat only three times a day! Even at that rate six martinis has never been recommended in the scientific literature for the control or cure of any form of arthritis. Knowing the amount of alcohol in so many drinks the only possible advantage would be that it would numb or disguise the pain if it does exist.

May I suggest that you stay with more orthodox forms of treatment suggested by your doctors.

For all other sufferers of chronic forms of arthritis I want to repeat a warning issued by the American Medical Association about innumerable forms of quackery with promises of cure.

More than a half billion dollars are extracted from the sick, anxious and confused by the quacks who exploit them.

It is true that much is still unknown about many forms of arthritis. Patients have a right to be distressed, but must not be tempted to fall into the trap of those who will take their savings with a promise of a cure.

What position do doctors take about dental X-rays early in pregnancy? I had some X-rays taken before I was aware of my pregnancy and now I am very worried about the possible consequences.

Britain's Irish Problem

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
LONDON — The Left Wing in England is working itself up to shuck off the problem of Northern Ireland as if it were just another Kenya or Ghana or French Algeria. The argument, as presented in such publications as the New Statesman and by Laborites who have been pressing their ideas on their leader, Harold Wilson, runs this way:

The six counties of the Irish North (usually called Ulster, although Ulster originally included two other counties that were given to the Irish Free State at the time of the partition) are the last vestiges of British colonialism. So why boggle at cutting Ulster, now the one remaining canker in what is left of the Empire, adrift? Let the Irish, South and North, solve their own problems.

Paul Johnson of the New Statesman is nice about the whole business; he does not speak of letting the Irish Free State and Ulster become a West and an East Pakistan, with a million Ulster Protestants suppressed in blood or driven over the sea into Scotland as East Pakistan's rebels were driven into India. Nor does he dare press his comparison to Algeria, where the French "colons" had to pull up stakes and return to the France of their rather distant forefathers. Mr. Johnson advocates a "period of direct administration from Westminster" which could be "used to make this transfer of responsibility smooth and uneventful."

This is British reasonableness — and British phlegm — at a rather delightful peak. It hardly reckons with the smoldering fires that have been banked on both sides of the Northern Irish struggle for 300 years. The Protestant followers of the Reverend Ian Paisley, who still think of the Roman Catholic Church as the "scarlet woman," are perfectly capable of biding their time until the British soldiers depart, or even to outwait a UN peacekeeping force, and the "provisionals" of the Irish Republican Army, pushed leftward by Bernadette Devlin's Castro-type thinking, would surely come forward once more to strike at the Paisley Orangemen.

The trouble with the New Statesman and general Labor-Leftist type of thinking about the "colons" of Northern Ireland is that Ulster is not a British colony. The Presbyterians — the "Scotch Irish" — have been there from the 17th century. So have Catholic Irish. Neither side is any more "colonist" than a Dutch Roosevelt is a colonist in modern New York. There happen to be more Presbyterian Celts in the six-county area of the North than there are Catholic Celts. So how can the New Statesman refer to the Presbyterian Celts, whose ancestors came to Northern Ireland in the time of England's Stuart kings, as "colons"? These are not a handful of Frenchmen living in a sea of Moslems in Algeria; they are as much a part of the ancient landscape as any of the European groups that settled early on in the United States of Canada.

The point is that both Catholic Celts and Protestant Celts belong in Northern Ireland, and they are not going to live in peace if any over-the-border capital, whether Dublin or London, tries to coerce either group. The inhabitants of Ulster will have to get along together in a separate country of their own. "Union" with anybody offers no surcease of legitimate bombs. If it is the "Britishers" that call the tune, Joe Cahill's IRA will be doing the bombing; if it is Dublin, the extremists of the Paisley faction will surely move underground to continue their fight. As for the guerrillas being the "fish" that "swim in the sea" of surrounding sympathizers, wouldn't an "Orangeman" guerrilla actually have the easier time swimming in a population area that has a two-to-one Protestant leaning in cultural and spiritual orientation?

There could, of course, be a plebiscite in certain border areas, and maybe the predominantly Catholic community of Londonderry, close to the Donegal line, would vote for incorporation in Eire. But Londonderry — or Derry, as the Catholics call it — has become relatively prosperous since American corporations such as Du Pont have set up plants in the area, and when a Londonderry man does get laid off he receives welfare on the English-United Kingdom scale, which is better than the Dublin-Eire scale. So, with the economics of the situation being tilted to favor the North, it is not certain that even a border county plebiscite would result in redrawing the map.

Still, everybody might feel better if there were a Londonderry-area plebiscite coupled with a vote on the idea of proportional representation advantages in the "Stormont" government for the Catholic districts. The granting of a vote on geographical preferences and the mechanics of representation could not result in giving the Catholics a majority position in Ulster. But it would be an expression of good-will, and might have great symbolic value.

George W. Baker filed a suit seeking $414 in damages from the Inter-State Motor Co. when his vehicle and a bus collided in the covered bridge across Little Walnut Creek.

United States Senator Frank Willis was secured as a speaker with Myers Cooper, Republican candidate for governor, during Darbyville's centennial celebration Sept. 11. Bands, parades and baseball were also on the program.

Edwin S. Lowe died at the age of 58 in his W. Main St. home. The Williamsport-born man's occupation was that of a cigar maker.

A record that was considered hard to beat was set by Darbyville gardener John Crawford. On one-half acre of ground, Crawford gathered potatoes, corn, sweetcorn, onions, tomatoes, green beans, beets, peas, cabbage and radishes all valued at $243.50.

The home of Ray Hanawalt, Monroe Twp., was visited by chicken thieves and 10 of his choicest Plymouth Rock pullets taken.

Ed Rife and Harry Weldon, pioneer in the sports writing field, were memorialized in an edition of The Ohio State Journal. Both were Circleville natives. Rife, who joined the newspaper game shortly after the Civil War when baseball was just catching on, was the first baseball editor for the Journal, though he never could catch on to the tabulated box score. Weidon, famous for turning out reams of copy using a pencil stub, went to Cincinnati and became sporting editor of The Enquirer in the days of Biddy McPhee and Buck Ewing of the Reds.

"Circleville" name plates were sold at R. L. Brehmer's auto sales lot for one dollar. They were for display on car radiators. The tags also proclaimed the town was "Home of the Logan Elm."

An auction sale of old furniture was held at the Home and Hospital.

About 200 men, women and children met in the school yard of the old Pleasant Grove School, four miles southwest of Williamsport, for a reunion of former teachers and pupils of the school.

George W. Fellers, a blind broommaker, lost his little shop to fire. A New Holland broommaker who also had been a sufferer by fire, sent $5 to Fellers to help him retrieve his loss. Other donations came in totaling $294.50 for which Fellers was able to have his shop rebuilt and equipped.

CHS Coach Griffith commented that the new rules being used in football practically eliminated the old dangerous and brutal game making football one of the most entertaining diversions of the fall season.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things we could do without:

People who hold wedding receptions under tents on stifling hot days.
Drugs and coffee.
Dried-up apple pie.
Anybody who has fooled him self into thinking that a college education has made him smart.
The same old blah-tasting glue on government stamps.
Blanketwide men's neckties in colors that would pale a peacock.

People who believe that patriotism is proved merely by flying a flag.

Any husband who says he doesn't mind doing the dishes because he says it gives him time to think.

A pimple on the tip of a girl's nose the day she's supposed to graduate from high school.

All jokes about the relationship between undertakers and doctors.

Anybody over 25 riding on the seat of a motorcycle.

Anybody who rides a bicycle to work simply because it is the "in" thing to do.

People who call you by your first name when you can't even remember their last names.

Hospital nurses who ask patients after a restless night, "Well, well, well—and how do we feel this morning?"

Two-bit Broadway musicals that charge $15 a seat.

Anybody who makes a point of saying toe-mah-toe when you've just finished saying tuh-may-tuh.

Anybody caught playing a harmonica in public between sunrise and sunset.

Cloids who get up bright and early on Monday morning so they can grab you by the lapels and tell you what an interesting weekend they had.

Girls who try to make every Tom, Dick and Harry they meet fall in love with them just so they can later write him a "Dear John" letter.

Secretaries who can't spell any better than a sauer apple.

Babies that just lie in their cradles and stare at you balefully when you try to make friends with them.

Truckdrivers who can't address a remark to a pedestrian without using at least two four-letter words.

Any new government bureaus.

Any new predictions about why, when or how the world will end.

All recipes for what to do with leftover breaded veal cutlets. The only sensible thing to do with them is to see how far you can skip them across the nearest lake or river.

Absenteeism by British workers due to such minor ills such as headaches is on the increase, a survey by the drug industry's Office of Health Economics reports. Those little ailments are contagious. Such sick calls give the boss a headache, too.

The report estimates minor ailments cost the loss of nearly $2 billion worth of working time annually. What's minor about that!

Many insects have taste buds on the soles of their feet — nature item. Is that why houseflies dearly love to take a stroll in a sugar bowl?

The modern elevator first made its appearance as an exhibit at the 1854 New York World's Fair. The gadget certainly must have given that show quite a lift!

An average toad will eat 10,000 insects a year, we read. Now there's a creature that truly bugs!

Portugal's Prince Henry the Navigator was really a homebody, say historians. Just another armchair tourist?

NEW YORK (AP) — Things we could do without:

— People who hold wedding receptions under tents on stifling hot days.

— Drugstore coffee.

— Dried-up apple pie.

— Anybody who has fooled himself into thinking that a college education has made him smart.

— The same old blah-tasting glue on government stamps.

— Blanketwide men's neckties in colors that would pale a peacock.

— People who believe that patriotism is proved merely by flying a flag.

— Any husband who says he doesn't mind doing the dishes because he says it gives him time to think.

— A pimple on the tip of a girl's nose the day she's supposed to graduate from high school.

— All jokes about the relationship between undertakers and doctors.

— Anybody over 25 riding on the seat of a motorcycle.

— Anybody who rides a bicycle to work simply because it is the "in" thing to do.

— People who call you by your first name when you can't even remember their last names.

— Hospital nurses who ask patients after a restless night, "Well, well, well—and how do we feel this morning?"

Two-bit Broadway musicals that charge $15 a seat.

Anybody who makes a point of saying toe-mah-toe when you've just finished saying tuh-may-tuh.

Anybody caught playing a harmonica in public between sunrise and sunset.

Clouds who get up bright and early on Monday morning so they can grab you by the lapels and tell you what an interesting weekend they had.

Girls who try to make every Tom, Dick and Harry they meet fall in love with them just so they can later write him a "Dear John" letter.

Secretaries who can't spell any better than a sauer apple.

Babies that just lie in their cradles and stare at you balefully when you try to make friends with them.

Truckdrivers who can't address a remark to a pedestrian without using at least two four-letter words.

Any new government bureaus.

Any new predictions about why, when or how the world will end.

All recipes for what to do with leftover breaded veal cutlets. The only sensible thing to do with them is to see how far you can skip them across the nearest lake or river.

She's Sick Of Playing Piano For Guests

DEAR ABBY: When we have company for dinner my father asks them in front of me how would they like to hear me play the piano. What can they say? So I have to play the piano for them. I didn't mind it so much when I was younger because it was cute, but I am 16 years old now and it's embarrassing.

I have told my dad I would rather not play for company anymore, but he asks me anyway. I know he's proud of me, but it is evident to everyone in my family (except him) the guests are bored and they could care less how I play the piano.

What should I do?
DADDY'S LITTLE PIANIST
DEAR PIANIST: Appeal to your father again, and enlist the support of your family. P.S. Your company is lucky. Ours had to listen to my twin sister and me play violin duets until we were 18 years old.

DEAR ABBY: My problem sounds something like a letter out of your column, but here it is: I have a very good friend (call him "Bill") whom I've known all my life. We are more like brothers than friends. Bill married a girl I'll call Sue six years ago. Sue's a terrific girl and we three get along just fine.

Well, Bill and Sue didn't want any children for the first three years of their marriage, but for the last three years they've been trying without success. They saw several doctors who agreed that Sue was okay, but the trouble was Bill's.

Last week, when I was at Bill and Sue's for dinner, they knocked me cold with the suggestion that I father Sue's child! Bill said he would prefer bringing up the child of his wife and best friend than adopting one of unknown origin. He said it was not unlike artificial insemination, only the test tube phase was eliminated and he'd know who the father was.

Abby, I've always had a special thing for Sue, but only in my dreams, and I couldn't bring myself to go through with such a scheme, and I told them so. They thought I was foolish. What do you think?

MIDDLEMAN
DEAR MISSLE: I think you're right, and they are foolish.

DEAR ABBY: Our son was playing ball and accidentally broke a huge picture window in our neighbor's home. I'll call these neighbors the Smiths.

The Smiths immediately taped the window and put boards over it so nobody would get cut. That evening my husband went over there and expressed his regrets and gave the Smiths the money to get the window replaced. The Smiths are very well off and could have afforded to replace the window themselves, but we felt responsible.

Well, it has been over three months and that window is still taped and boarded, and it is a terrible eyesore to this lovely neighborhood. Since the Smiths accepted the money from my husband, aren't they obligated to fix the window? Have you any suggestions on how we can get them to do it?

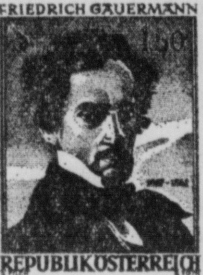

MAD IN L.A.

DEAR MAD: Of course they should repair the broken window at once. Remind them! Your mistake was giving them the money. You should have made arrangements to replace the window at once, and paid for it.

RCA Computer Line Is Dropped

NEW YORK (AP) — The RCA Corp. says it will quit making computers because the huge capital outlays required to stay in the business would penalize its other operations.

Robert W. Sarnoff, RCA chairman, said Friday in announcing the move that the computer manufacturing business was leveling off and that this would extend the company's timetable for achieving a profit in the field.

He said RCA would write off its computer business through charges that could reach $250 million—the loss claimed by the Ford Motor Co. when it dropped the Edsel in 1959.

Armco Gets 'Halt Order'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Armco Steel Corp. based in Middletown, Ohio, has been ordered to halt the discharging of cyanide and other toxic wastes into the Houston Ship Channel from its plant here.

Judge Allen B. Hanney of the U. S. District Court here said the firm has the ability to adequately treat wastes from its plants in Ohio. He said Armco had not shown during a trial here "why the citizens of Ohio should be given more favorable treatment than the citizens of Texas."

Hanney also enjoined Armco from disposing toxic wastes in deep injection wells until 18 abandoned oil and gas wells within a two and one-half mile radius of the proposed injection wells have been replugged according to government specifications.

He said that government officials have questioned the adequacy of replugging the abandoned wells to protect fresh-water sands.

An Environmental Protection Agency official testified during the Armco trial that he was uncertain whether the injection methods would be safe even if the wells were replugged to keep the waste from escaping into abandoned wells and then into sands that bear water used for drinking in Houston.

Miss Barbara Ann Scribner Bride Of Darrell R. Vaughn

MRS. DARRELL RAY VAUGHN

Miss Barbara Ann Scribner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Scribner, Route 1, Orient and Darrell Ray Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vaughn of Dayton were united in marriage 4:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 18th.

The Rev. Robert Gish officiated the double ring ceremony in Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church. Mr. Roger Allen, vocalist of Circleville, presented a program of nuptial selections.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding day a peau de soie ivory satin under silk organza gown. The bodice, cuffs and mantilla were fashioned with old fashioned ivory lace. She carried a sheath cascade of amaranth centered with three orange roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas Scribner, sister-in-law of the bride, Lillington, N. C. She was attired in an orange and green Victorian print gown and carried a Victorian bouquet of snow crystal, orange carnations, white statice and baby's breath.

Hospital Guild Plans Projects

The first fall meeting of Berger Hospital Guild 47 was held recently in the home of Mrs. Ray Crawford, Logan Elm Village.

Mrs. William Schleich, president, opened the meeting with a welcome back to members. Projects for the coming year were discussed.

Members voted to change the meeting night to the third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. Due to Pumpkin Show the October meeting will be on the 5th at the home of Mrs. Ralph Beadle, 280 Lewis Road with Mrs. Ray Crawford as co-hostess.

Maid of honor, was Miss Gale Scribner of Orient, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Blue, Williamsport; Mrs. John Scribner, sister-in-law of the bride, Columbus; Miss Connie Lett, Orient and Miss Brunhilde Bietz, Tiffin. They were dressed identically to the matron of honor and carried matching bouquets.

Miss Kelly Koehler of Fairfield was flower girl and Master Jeff Brinker, cousin of the bride, Allison Park, Pa. was ring bearer.

Mr. Michael Kirk of St. Clairsville served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Michael Schultz, Dayton, Mr. Richard Navarro, U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.; Mr. David Scribner, Orient, Mr. Thomas Scribner, Lillington, N.C. and Mr. John Scribner of Columbus, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Scribner wore an apricot crepe dress with the neckline and sleeve edges trimmed with pearls. Mrs. Vaughn wore a mint green dress with a high neckline and short sleeves. Both mothers corsages were of cymbidium orchids.

A reception in the social rooms of the church immediately followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Suza Brooks, Dayton; Miss Patty Lambert, Pepper Pike; Miss Carol Rhoades, Van Wert; Miss Jill Barthen, Orient; Miss Debra Dunlap, Miss Wendy Dunlap and Miss Allison Park, cousins of the bride.

For her going-away costume the bride wore a beige crocheted dress with dark brown accessories and the orange rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The new Mrs. Vaughn is a graduate of Westfall High School. Both Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn are in the junior class at the Ohio State University. They will reside at University Arms Apartments, Columbus.

Deborah Morris, Joe Spangler Plan To Marry

DEBORAH MORRIS

The engagement of Miss Deborah Sue Morris to Randy Joe Spangler is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Morris of Atlanta. Mr. Spangler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Spangler, Route 1, New Holland.

The bride-elect is employed by the Circleville General Electric Lamp Plant and her fiancé is employed by Dinkler Plastics in Jeffersonville.

An April wedding is being planned.

FOE Auxiliary Sets Dinner

Space Technology Is Topic For Farm Bureau Women

"Earthling" members of Pickaway County Farm Bureau Women's Committee saw firsthand Friday, how space technology is helping improve life here on earth.

Miss Joy Washburn, public relations representative for Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., described many of these "down-to-earth" benefits to the members and exhibited many actual products developed through space technology as she told the role of Ohio industries and Ohioans played in helping America's space pioneers realize their "impossible dream" of landing men on the moon.

She showed an experimental artificial heart that has sustained life for up to 50 hours in animals. To help make this heart function, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) of Cleveland developed the pumping system.

After telling of a computer enhancement technique developed by NASA that clarifies pictures taken on the moon, Miss Washburn showed how this same technique has been used to clarify medical X-rays, enabling doctors to see details that might otherwise be lost or overlooked.

Miss Washburn also pointed out how a special energy-absorbing system designed to protect astronauts from shocks during blastoff and re-entry is being adopted to make highways safer here on earth. She displayed a device that can be used in hazardous areas to reduce the impact of a 60 mph crash to that of a 10 to 15 mph collision.

Campers, hunters, fishermen and housewives also benefit from another innovation developed by the space industry — the freeze-drying and rehydrating of foods. Miss Washburn had samples of space foods used by the astronauts, including strawberry cubes, sausage patties, corn and, of course, the familiar freeze-dried coffee.

As part of the presentation, Miss Washburn took her audience with her to Cape Kennedy where she witnessed, as a guest of NASA, the launching of Apollo 13.

She also told how the natural gas industry is utilizing space age technology to improve service to its customers. Just as space scientists liquefy oxygen and hydrogen to conserve space in rocket ships, the gas industry is liquefying natural gas in Africa at super cold temperatures so that it can be transported for use by customers here in the United States.

Miss Washburn appeared at the program dressed from head to toe in clothing made of natural gas, made possible through the wonders of petrochemistry. In this she had something in common with the spaceman who wears a suit with inner insulating layers of synthetic materials made from natural gas.

Miss Washburn, a resident of Columbus who travels throughout Ohio giving speeches upon request to club groups, schools and organizations, is a graduate of Jackson High School and Ohio University, Athens. She was director of public relations at Urbana College before joining the gas company, and is listed in

Miss Barbara Ann Scribner Bride Of Darrell R. Vaughn

MRS. DARRELL RAY VAUGHN

Miss Barbara Ann Scribner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Scribner, Route 1, Orient and Darrell Ray Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vaughn of Dayton were united in marriage 4:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 18th.

The Rev. Robert Gish officiated the double ring ceremony in Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church. Mr. Roger Allen, vocalist of Circleville, presented a program of nuptial selections.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding day a beau de soie ivory satin under silk organza gown. The bodice, cuffs and mantilla were fashioned with old fashioned ivory lace. She carried a sheath cascade of amaranths centered with three orange roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas Scribner, sister-in-law of the bride, Lillington, N. C. She was attired in an orange and green victorian print gown and carried a victorian bouquet of snow crystal, orange carnations, white statice and baby's breath.

Hospital Guild Plans Projects

The first fall meeting of Berger Hospital Guild 47 was held recently in the home of Mrs. Ray Crawford, Logan Elm Village.

Mrs. William Schleich, president, opened the meeting with a welcome back to members. Projects for the coming year were discussed.

Members voted to change the meeting night to the third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. Due to Pumpkin Show the October meeting will be on the 5th at the home of Mrs. Ralph Beadle, 280 Lewis Road with Mrs. Ray Crawford as co-hostess.

Maid of honor, was Miss Gale Scribner of Orient, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Blue, Williamsport; Mrs. John Scribner, sister-in-law of the bride, Columbus; Miss Connie Lett, Orient and Miss Brunhilde Bietz, Tiffin. They were dressed identically to the matron of honor and carried matching bouquets.

Miss Kelly Koehler of Fairfield was flower girl and Master Jeff Brinker, cousin of the bride, Allison Park, Pa. was ring bearer.

Mr. Michael Kirk of St. Clairsville served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Michael Schultz, Dayton, Mr. Richard Navarro, U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.; Mr. David Scribner, Orient, Mr. Thomas Scribner, Lillington, N.C. and Mr. John Scribner of Columbus, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Scribner wore an apricot crepe dress with the neckline and sleeve edges trimmed with pearls. Mrs. Vaughn wore a mint green dress with a high neckline and short sleeves. Both mothers corsages were of cymbidium orchids.

A reception in the social rooms of the church immediately followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Suza Brooks, Dayton; Miss Patty Lambert, Pepper Pike; Miss Carol Rhoades, Van Wert; Miss Jill Barthen, Orient; Miss Debra Dunlap, Miss Wendy Dunlap and Miss Allison Park, cousins of the bride.

For her going-away costume the bride wore a beige crocheted dress with dark brown accessories and the orange rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The new Mrs. Vaughn is a graduate of Westfall High School. Both Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn are in the junior class at the Ohio State University. They will reside at University Arms Apartments, Columbus.

TUESDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Unexpected startling and dramatic events can happen today and tonight to give you the opportunity to work conditions out with other persons. Also good for entertaining those with whom you have any powerful relationship, but realize that whatever arises, whether it appears good or bad, has big opportunities for you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Some condition arises that could upset you emotionally if you aren't careful, so keep calm and handle satisfactorily. Make right agreements with others. Evening fine for amusement, entertaining.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Others bring you good ideas on how to get ahead that should be studied to see if they are practical. You are tempted to waste time today, but you had better start the work ahead of you with enthusiasm. Show you have wisdom.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can go out to enjoy pleasures that have eluded you until now and have a delightful time. You have some special talent through which you can add to present income. Do so.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Situations come up at home that are quite puzzling, but if studied well, will lead to more progress in the future. Become more successful by pursuing your finest ambitions. Do not speak too loudly with others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) An unexpected guest or short trip will result in some benefit for you, though you are hardly conscious of the fact now. Discuss your aims with people you like and gain their cooperation. Avoid strangers.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Bigwigs are in a good mood today: you can go to them for the backing or assistance you want and get it. Discuss your aims with all those in a position to help you. Stop doodling and get busy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day for any area of your work or personal life. The evening can be rewarding from the artistic standpoint. Entertain or be entertained. Get ahead quickly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 12 to Nov. 21)

Intangible Taxes Are Distributed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor Joseph Ferguson reported today he has distributed $60.6 million in intangible tax revenues to the state's 88 counties.

This was a $3.8 million increase over the same distribution of the taxes on financial institutions and securities dealers last year.

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven new series had their network television premieres over the three nights of the weekend, a figure that rises to 14 if one counts three made-for-TV film features. Over-all, unhappily, quality did not match quantity.

On the plus side were a couple of comedy half hours and two action-adventure hours. Decision must be reserved, pending further inspection, of several others.

Don Adams is back on NBC with "The Partners" on Saturdays, this time playing a fumbling police detective, with Rupert Crosse as his partner. In mood and comedy style, it is a twin to Adams' old "Get Smart" series. The first segment opened with Don going to tumble comedy works pretty well.

Then there is CBS's "Funny Face," also on Saturdays, with newcomer Sandy Duncan in the title role. This is the giddy adventures of a nice girl working her way through college in Los Angeles. Miss Duncan is a real find—fresh, appealing and amusing. The program itself shows an almost embarrassing kinship to "The Mary Tyler Moore Show" in the working-girl surroundings—the acid-tongued girl friend, the funny landlady and so on. The premiere program had our heroine doing live commercials for a used car lot, a Los Angeles TV phenomenon. Mostly because of Miss Duncan, it was a pleasant half hour.

If you enjoy "The F.B.I.," you will undoubtedly enjoy "O'Hara, U. S. Treasury." David Janssen appears as the intrepid agent in the CBS Friday night action show which, like the ABC program about the G-men, has the blessing of the federal department and is alleged to have its plots based on Treasury files. The first program involved narcotics traffic—standard plot stuff—but the program has good production values, moves fast and there is plenty of fists and guns in action.

And if you like "O'Hara," you probably will find that Glenn Ford's new "Cade's County" on CBS Sundays slides down easily.

The first time out, Sam Cade, the hero, was busy dodging a professional assassin. Ford plays a sober-sides sheriff of some Southwestern area with a sort of angry conviction. There were auto chases, plenty of gun play but not much subtlety.

Apartment Painting Party Ends In Spattered Melee

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Wilford Phelps appeared in Cleveland Municipal Court Friday with his head painted blue and gold. His wife and a paintbrush-wielding friend had used all the white enamel.

Phelps, 24, was a late arrival at a painting party of his wife, Bobbie Jean, 23, and Joann Stroud, 26, a resident of the same apartment building on the East Side.

He was found guilty of assault and battery with an iron and given one year's probation. Mrs. Phelps told police she invited Mrs. Stroud to paint a nursery in her apartment late Thursday night and that they had planned to paint it blue, gold and white.

The job soon degenerated into a body painting squabble, with the women painting each other. A wrestling match followed. After the women were covered with paint they began painting Mrs. Phelps' 16-month-old son, Wilford Jr., and Mrs. Stroud's 3-year-old son.

Then Mrs. Phelps, armed with a paint roller, chased Mrs. Stroud, armed with a paintbrush, from the apartment.

When the women returned to the apartment they encountered Phelps. He separated them, but not before he was painted with the remaining blue and gold paint.

Police said Mrs. Stroud left the apartment, but returned a few moments later for some paint thinner and a second argument broke out and Phelps picked up an iron and hit her on the head.

Phelps told police he did not become involved until he learned his son had been painted.

"It was humorous up to the time it got violent," he said.

U.S. Aid For Busing Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern school officials, hit with the high cost of busing, are coming to Congress seeking ways around President Nixon's ban on the use of federal funds to help meet the cost.

In at least one case, congressional sources report, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has agreed to watch a school district's busing costs with a federal grant if the busing program is paid for out of local funds.

The money the school officials have their eyes on is the $1.5 billion Nixon has asked Congress to provide to help defray the costs of desegregation. Until Nixon announced on Aug. 3 none of the money should be used for busing, many school districts were planning to spend it for just that purpose.

The announcement, which was coupled with Nixon's reputation of a desegregation plan prepared by HEW for Austin, Tex., was criticized by civil rights groups as a bid for Southern political support. But it has not made the President popular with school officials or congressmen representing school districts carrying out busing plans.

In their view, since it is either the federal courts or HEW that is requiring the busing, the federal government has an obligation to help pay the costs. "That refrain is being heard frequently these days at meetings between Southern congressmen and members of the House Education and Labor Committee, which has the desegregation bill before it."

Kenneth Howard, will hear arguments on his instructions to the five-man jury of Vietnam veterans. After he charges the jury, there will be final arguments, which could be completed in time for the jury to begin deliberating Wednesday.

Last week Howard altered the trial with a series of rulings which reduced and dismissed some of the charges against the 35-year-old Medina.

The judge reduced the charge that Medina was responsible for the deaths of 100 civilians killed by his soldiers from murder to involuntary manslaughter. This lesser charge carries a maximum penalty of three years imprisonment.

Howard also granted a defense motion for dismissal of the charge that Medina ordered the shooting of a small boy. The judge said there was evidence of at least five children shot in separate incidents and added that "too much confusion in my mind over which one the government is charging Capt. Medina with led to my ruling."

Medina, commander of Charlie Company which swept through the tiny Vietnamese hamlet of My Lai in 1968, is still charged with one murder—shooting a woman lying in a rice paddy. Howard also let stand the assault charges against Medina for firing two shots over the head of a suspected Viet Cong prisoner during an interrogation.

Howard said he reduced the charge involving the 100 civilians because in his opinion the government failed to prove that Medina intended them to be slain.

Low Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

A cold front pushed across Ohio from the west today triggering rain and occasional thundershowers.

Highs were expected to reach no higher than the low 70s under mostly cloudy skies.

Temperatures tonight are expected to plummet into the 40s in western counties as skies clear. Lows in eastern Ohio will average about 10 degrees warmer under cloudy skies.

Tomorrow's highs are forecast to range from 65 to 70 under sunny skies.

FORECASTS
OHIO—Partly cloudy west tonight and mostly cloudy with a chance of showers east. Lows from the mid 40s to mid 50s. Tuesday mostly sunny. Highs 65 to 70.

NORTHWEST INLAND, WEST LAKE SHORE—Partly cloudy and cooler tonight. Lows in the mid to upper 40s. Tuesday mostly sunny. Highs near 70.

WEST CENTRAL, SOUTH-WEST—Partly clearing and cooler tonight. Lows in the 50s. Tuesday mostly sunny. Highs near 70.

CENTRAL, SOUTHEAST—Mostly cloudy tonight with a chance of showers. Lows 50 to 55. Partly cloudy Tuesday. Highs in the upper 60s.

Board Eyes Traveling Expenses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — When the Ohio Emergency Board meets this afternoon, it will consider the question of reimbursing state employees for travel expenses outside Ohio.

State Finance Director Harold Hovey has recommended in a report to the board that it simplify restrictions on such payments.

Ohio law requires that the emergency board approve out-of-state business expenses, but various exceptions have been permitted, and critics say board refusal to approve reimbursement in other cases has cost the state more money than it saved.

During the last fiscal year, according to a study made by James Leckrone, an assistant to Hovey and also president of the emergency board, the board approved 612 requests for travel payments, while turning down 100.

Some officials contend board refusals have prevented state employees from making trips that could have resulted in acquisition of federal funds for state use.

Ohio legislators and their top aides have traditionally been allowed compensation for travel expenses without board approval, but Hovey's report noted that "no legal basis for reimbursement exists."

In addition, exemptions have also been granted through limited blanket approval for travel within departments such as the governor's office, and for cabinet officers, employees of the Department of Education and members of the State Racing Commission, the report said.

LBJ Eyed '65 Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson came close to ordering a wage-price freeze six years ago, a former price controller disclosed Sunday.

"He should have done it," added Michael V. DiSalle, who was director of the Office of Price Stabilization in the Korean War years 1951-52.

DiSalle, former governor of Ohio and now a Washington lawyer, told an interviewer the date of Johnson's almost-freeze was July 28, 1965.

"I was attending a fund-raising meeting of the President's Club at the White House that day," DiSalle recalled.

"The president came into the meeting quite a bit late. He apologized to us, saying he had been busy—that he had just ordered an escalation of the war in Vietnam, to try to get it ended sooner."

"He looked at me, sitting in one of the front seats, and said, 'Mike, you almost had another OPA on your hands.'"

Ohio Weekend Crashes Claim 19

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Weekend traffic accidents claimed 19 lives in Ohio, six fewer than died on the road a week earlier.

It was the lowest toll since the weekend before Labor Day when 17 died.

A three-car collision near Salem claimed three lives Friday evening. It was the first accident of the weekend and the worst.

A single-car accident Saturday killed two Canton men and was the only other multiple-death crash. A motorcyclist and two pedestrians were also among the dead.

The dead:

FRIDAY
SALEM — Gary R. Henderson, 26, of Columbiana County; George T. Ursu Jr., 19, of Salem, and Bonnie Lee Burson, 15, of Salem, in a three-car collision on Ohio 14 just outside the Salem city limits. The Highway Patrol said Henderson was passing another car and slammed head-on into Ursu's auto, in which Miss Burson was riding, then struck another car and crashed into a utility pole.

Polar Air Pushes Way Into U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cold polar air surged across the Canadian border today reinforcing the cool weather already chilling much of the Midwest and Northwest.

Temperatures plunged into the 20s and 30s in the central Rockies while portions of the Midwest and Mississippi Valley cooled down to the 40s and 50s.

Travel warnings were posted for northwest and central Montana with cold rain forecast and up to 4 inches of snow predicted for the mountain regions.

Rain also accompanied the chilly weather from eastern Texas to the upper Great Lakes.

Occasional showers sprinkled the region from New York and western New England to the Carolinas.

Mild temperatures and fair skies dominated the rest of the nation. Temperatures before dawn ranged from 25 at Flagstaff, Ariz., to 82 at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Schroeder, 22, of Cincinnati, when his motorcycle struck a utility pole on the city's North Side.

FREMONT — An unidentified man believed by police to be between 40 and 50 years old, struck by an auto on U.S. 20 in Sandusky County.

SATURDAY
BOWLING GREEN — Glenn Haas, 31, of Pemberville, Wood County, when his auto slammed into the rear of a tractor-trailer rig on Ohio 420 near the Ohio Turnpike.

PIKETON — Neal W. McAllister, 19, of near Piketon, when his car crashed on a Pike County road.

TOLEDO — Lee Strahota, 24, of Maumee, when his auto went out of control on a Toledo street and struck a tree.

CANTON — James King, 22, and David Wallace, 17, both of Canton, when their car crashed into a tree on Ohio 83 one mile north of Zoar.

PORT CLINTON — Hughlet Franklin Kilgoar, 46, of Detroit, Mich., in a single-car crash on the Ohio Turnpike in Ottawa County.

Farm Science Review Opens 3-Day Confab

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 1971 Farm Science Review opens a three-day program in the Ohio State University airport area Tuesday, with the latest developments in agricultural science and tools on display.

About 225 commercial companies will exhibit more than $5 million worth of machinery and supplies.

Test plots have been developed to supply farmers with suggestions on a variety of farm practices, including corn that yields 200 bushels per acre, hybrids that resist the Southern Corn Leaf Blight, and methods of growing better crops.

U.S. Aid For Busing Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern school officials, hit with the high cost of busing, are coming to Congress seeking ways around President Nixon's ban on the use of federal funds to help meet the cost.

In at least one case, congressional sources report, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has agreed to match a school district's busing costs with a federal grant if the busing program is paid for out of local funds.

The money the school officials have their eyes on is the $4.5 billion Nixon has asked Congress to provide to help defray the costs of desegregation. Until Nixon announced on Aug. 3 none of the money should be used for busing, many school districts were planning to spend it for just that purpose.

The announcement, which was coupled with Nixon's repudiation of a desegregation plan prepared by HEW for Austin, Tex., was criticized by civil rights groups as a bid for Southern political support. But it has not made the President popular with school officials or congressmen representing school districts carrying out busing plans.

In their view, since it is either the federal courts or HEW that is requiring the busing, the federal government has an obligation to help pay the costs. That refrain is being heard frequently these days at meetings between Southern congressmen and members of the House Education and Labor Committee, which has the desegregation bill before it.

Kenneth Howard, will hear arguments on his instructions to the five-man jury of Vietnam veterans. After he charges the jury, there will be final arguments, which could be completed in time for the jury to begin deliberating Wednesday.

Last week Howard altered the trial with a series of rulings which reduced and dismissed some of the charges against the 35-year-old Medina.

The judge reduced the charge that Medina was responsible for the deaths of 100 civilians killed by his soldiers from murder to involuntary manslaughter. This lesser charge carries a maximum penalty of three years imprisonment.

Howard also granted a defense motion for dismissal of the charge that Medina ordered the shooting of a small boy. The judge said there was evidence of at least five children shot in separate incidents and added that "too much confusion in my mind over which one the government is charging Capt. Medina with led to my ruling."

Medina, commander of Charlie Company which swept through the tiny Vietnamese hamlet of My Lai in 1968, is still charged with one murder—shooting a woman lying in a rice paddy. Howard also let stand the assault charges against Medina for firing two shots over the head of a suspected Viet Cong prisoner during an interrogation.

Howard said he reduced the charge involving the 100 civilians because in his opinion the government failed to prove that Medina intended them to be slain.

More Paper Work

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Amid the furor over leakage of the secret Pentagon papers, the United Nations reminded its employees that any document marked "restricted" should go only to "a restricted group."

Papers marked "Conference Room Paper," are to go only to "the participants and other interested recipients attending the meetings at which they were discussed."

Board Eyes Traveling Expenses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — When the Ohio Emergency Board meets this afternoon, it will consider the question of reimbursing state employees for travel expenses outside Ohio.

State Finance Director Harold Hovey has recommended in a report to the board that it simplify restrictions on such payments.

Ohio law requires that the emergency board approve out-of-state business expenses, but various exceptions have been permitted, and critics say board refusal to approve reimbursement in other cases has cost the state more money than it saved.

During the last fiscal year, according to a study made by James Leckrone, an assistant to Hovey and also president of the emergency board, the board approved 612 requests for travel payments, while turning down 109.

Some officials contend board refusals have prevented state employees from making trips that could have resulted in acquisition of federal funds for state use.

Ohio legislators and their top aides have traditionally been allowed compensation for travel expenses without board approval, but Hovey's report noted that "no legal basis for reimbursement exists."

In addition, exemptions have also been granted through limited blanket approval for travel within departments such as the governor's office, and for cabinet officers, employees of the Department of Education and members of the State Racing Commission, the report said.

LBJ Eyed '65 Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson came close to ordering a wage-price freeze six years ago, a former price controller disclosed Sunday.

"He should have done it," added Michael V. DiSalle, who was director of the Office of Price Stabilization in the Korean War years 1951-52. DiSalle, former governor of Ohio and now a Washington lawyer, told an interviewer the date of Johnson's almost-freeze was July 28, 1965.

"I was attending a fund-raising meeting of the President's Club at the White House that day," DiSalle recalled.

"The president came into the meeting quite a bit late. He apologized to us, saying he had been busy—that he had just ordered an escalation of the war in Vietnam, to try to get it ended sooner.

"He looked at me, sitting in one of the front seats, and said, 'Mike, you almost had another OPA on your hands.'"

Ohio Weekend Crashes Claim 19

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Weekend traffic accidents claimed 19 lives in Ohio, six fewer than died on the road a week earlier.

It was the lowest toll since the weekend before Labor Day when 17 died.

A three-car collision near Salem claimed three lives Friday evening. It was the first accident of the weekend and the worst.

A single-car accident Saturday killed two Canton men and was the only other multiple-death crash. A motorcyclist and two pedestrians were also among the dead.

The dead:

FRIDAY
SALEM — Gary R. Henderson, 26, of Columbiana County; George T. Ursi Jr., 19, of Salem, and Bonnie Lee Burson, 15, of Salem, in a three-car collision on Ohio 14 just outside the Salem city limits. The Highway Patrol said Henderson was passing another car and slammed head-on into Ursi's auto, in which Miss Burson was riding, then struck another car and crashed into a utility pole.
CINCINNATI — Robert

Schroeder, 22, of Cincinnati, when his motorcycle struck a utility pole on the city's North Side.

FREMONT — An unidentified man believed by police to be between 40 and 50 years old, struck by an auto on U.S. 20 in Sandusky County.

SATURDAY
BOWLING GREEN — Glenn Haas, 31, of Pemberville, Wood County, when his auto slammed into the rear of a tractor-trailer rig on Ohio 420 near the Ohio Turnpike.

PIKETON — Neal W. McAllister, 19, of near Piketon, when his car crashed on a Pike County road.

TOLEDO — Lee Strahota, 24, of Maumee, when his auto went out of control on a Toledo street and struck a tree.

CANTON — James King, 22, and David Wallace, 17, both of Canton, when their car crashed into a tree on Ohio 83 one mile north of Zoar.

PORT CLINTON — Hughlet Franklin Kilgoar, 46, of Detroit, Mich., in a single-car crash on the Ohio Turnpike in Ottawa County.

Farm Science Review Opens 3-Day Confab

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 1971 Farm Science Review opens a three-day program in the Ohio State University airport area Tuesday, with the latest developments in agricultural science and tools on display.

About 225 commercial companies will exhibit more than $5 million worth of machinery and supplies.

Test plots have been developed to supply farmers with suggestions on a variety of farm practices, including corn that yields 200 bushels per acre, hybrids that resist the Southern Corn Leaf Blight, and methods of growing better crops.

Cookie and candy tins are good make-shift humidors.

Meet The Mustangs

Dave Shannon (12) and Art Dick are two members of the West-fall High School football team. Shannon, a quarterback is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shannon, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, Dick, a guard, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Dick, Route 1, Mt. Sterling.

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Rookie quarterbacks Jim Plunkett and Archie Manning made spectacular pro debuts to spice an incredible opening Sunday in the National Football League.

Plunkett and Manning, the No. 1 and No. 2 picks in last January's pro draft, led the New England Patriots and New Orleans Saints to the two most startling upsets on an opening day replete with surprises.

Plunkett, the Heisman Trophy winner from Stanford, threw two touchdown passes as the Patriots stunned the Oakland Raiders 20-6.

Manning, who starred for Mississippi in college, sprinted around left end from the one on the last play of the game, to give the Saints an astounding 24-20 upset over the Los Angeles Rams.

Another rookie, cornerback Tom Hayes, from San Diego State, played a major role as the Atlanta Falcons humbled the favored San Francisco 49ers 20-17.

In other surprises the San Diego Chargers whipped the Kansas City Chiefs 21-14, the New York Giants edged the Green Bay Packers 42-40, the Washington Redskins overcame the St. Louis Cardinals 24-17, the Chicago Bears tripped the Pittsburgh Steelers 17-15, the Cleveland Browns routed the Houston Oilers 31-0 and the Denver Broncos held the Miami Dolphins to a 10-10 tie.

Elsewhere, form stood up as the Super Bowl champion Baltimore Colts whacked the New York Jets 22-0, the Dallas Cowboys, the only unbeaten, untied club in the preseason schedule, downed the Buffalo Bills 49-37 and the Cincinnati Bengals trampled the Philadelphia Eagles 37-14.

"Now we're winners and we want to keep it that way," said an elated Plunkett after his two TD passes in the second half upset the Raiders. His first scoring pass was a 33-yarder to Ron Sellers and the second a 29-yarder to Tom Beer.

Before his toss to Beer on a fake handoff Plunkett had set up the play with a 39-yard aerial to Randy Vataha.

"I might have made a mistake, but I never really thought about the pass," said Manning after his winning end run against the Rams on a pass-option play.

"I thought 'only one yard' and doggone it I knew I was going to get good blocking," Manning continued. "I saw a crack and dove and I knew I got over."

Manning had completed three passes for 42 yards to set up his winning sprint and give the Saints their first NFL victory after 12 consecutive losses.

Four interceptions of John Brodie passes, coupled with two Atlanta scoring passes from Bob Berry to Ken Burrow, helped the Falcons upset the 49ers.

But it was the rookie "Mr. Hayes" as coach Norm van Brocklin called him, that preserved the Falcons' triumph. He scooped up a fumble in the last three seconds on a play that erupted into a brawl as players from both benches spilled onto the field.

"I guess I started it," said Hayes who earlier had made two key interceptions. "One guy hit me when I was falling. I threw the ball at him because he hit me after the whistle. Then the fists started swinging everywhere."

BGSU, Lamport Turn Back Ohio U In Opener, 20-19

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bowling Green Coach Don Nehlen had high praise for sophomore quarterback Reid Lamport's performance in the Falcons' 20-19 Mid-American football victory over Ohio University Saturday.

"He came through super and no one could have done a better job," Nehlen exclaimed.

The signal caller from Newton Falls, a "process of elimination" choice to start after Bowling Green's first two quarterbacks were hurt in practice, hit 13 of 20 passes for 162 yards and one touchdown.

It was the first game of the season for both teams.

Nehlen said it was a "big, big victory," for his young team, dotted with nine starting sophomores.

Ohio led 13-10 at halftime, but Bowling Green tied it up in the third period on a field goal by Bill Witte and went ahead 20-13 in the final period on a two-yard run by Jerry Fields.

The Bobcats scored again late in the game but missed a chance to win when quarterback Dave Juenger was tackled trying a keeper for two extra points.

No other Mid-American conference games were played Saturday.

Toledo, playing outside the league, upped its winning streak — the longest in the nation — to 25 by edging Villanova 10-7, while Kent State was humiliated by Cincinnati 42-20, and Miami downed Xavier 17-3.

The Rockets pulled off the win with a 20-yard field goal by sophomore George Keim. The boot was set up by a 57-yard pass play from Chuck Ealey to Glyn Smith that put Toledo on Villanova's 24.

Cincinnati's senior quarterback Albert Johnson scored three touchdowns and picked up 124 yards on 17 rushes in spearheading the Bearcat attack.

Miami was paced by senior tailback Robert Hitchens, who racked up 172 yards in 28 carries, scored a touchdown and set up a field goal with eight straight runs.

In the only Ohio Conference action, Otterbein trimmed Kenyon 15-14 as Jim Bontadelli passed to Steve Traylor for two extra points with 26 seconds left to play, and Ohio Wesleyan defeated Heidelberg 14-8 by taking advantage of three fumbles.

Southern Illinois dazzled Dayton with quarterback Brad Pancoast passing for three touchdowns and running for another as the Salukis posted a 21-14 win.

Dayton's Gary Kosins, whose running set national marks in two categories last year, was held to only 43 yards in 13 carries.

Akron blanked Butler 24-0 behind the sparking performance of sophomore quarterback Eric Shock, who ran for 128 yards and completed four of six passes, one for a touchdown.

In other games, Ashland whipped Capital 20-7; Baldwin Wallace drubbed Hillsdale, Mich., 31-10; West Liberty, W. Va., came from behind to beat Muskingum 20-7; Western Kentucky clobbered Wittenberg 33-7, and Findlay blanked Oberlin 21-0.

Slippery Rock, Pa., turned back Mount Union 17-0; Denison crushed Centre 34-0; John Carroll routed Case Western Reserve 33-7; Westminster, Pa., beat Marietta 26-0; Bluffton defeated Taylor, Ind., 23-7, and Adrian, Mich., stopped DePue 30-7.

2 Big Auto Races Stopped By Rain, Fog

By BLOYS BRITT

AP Auto Racing Writer

Two stock car races that will have important bearing on driving championships were postponed Sunday because of rain.

The Pennsylvania 500 at Mount Pocono, Pa., ran 102.5 miles in a dense fog before rain finally shut the course down with pole-sitter Butch Hartman of Zanesville, Ohio, in the lead.

The 250-mile Wilkes 400 at North Wilkesboro, N.C., never got off the ground as rain flooded the five-eighths of a mile oval during Saturday night and Sunday morning. A starting field of 32 cars had been qualified for the race, led by Charlie Glotzbach, 106.428 miles per hour in a Chevrolet.

The North Wilkesboro race will be run Oct. 31.

The Pennsylvania 500 will be restarted at 1 p.m. Saturday with the drivers lining up in the positions they held when the halt came 55 minutes after the flagoff.

Longhorns Batter UCLA, 28-10

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas Longhorns, who were the top-ranked college football team in the country until mid-afternoon last New Year's Day, apparently have their sights set on a return to the heights.

Darrell Royal's sophomore-spiced club, ranked third behind Nebraska and Notre Dame in last week's Associated Press poll, opened its season impressively Saturday with a 28-10 road victory over UCLA. Barreling over land like the longhorn steers for which they are nicknamed, the Texans gulped down 428 yards rushing from their fearsome wishbone attack. Quarterback Eddie Phillips, whose 34-yard pass to Jim Moore with 34 seconds left in the first half snapped a 7-all deadlock, led the way with 142 yards on 20 carries and scored once himself.

Texas, however, probably will have a tough time closing in on the leaders when this week's poll is counted. Nebraska, No. 1, trounced Minnesota 35-7 and runner-up Notre Dame thrashed Northwestern 50-7.

Fifth-ranked Ohio State was idle but the rest of the Top Ten continued on their merry way behind offensive fireworks galore. Michigan, rated fourth, battered crippled Virginia 56-0 and sixth-ranked Arkansas downed a talented young Oklahoma State club 31-10.

The Nos. 7-8 teams, Auburn and Tennessee, warmed up for their important Southeastern Conference battle next weekend by crushing UT-Chattanooga and UC-Santa Barbara, respectively, 60-7 and 4-6. Alabama, No. 9, buried Southern Mississippi 42-6 and 10th-ranked Oklahoma whipped Southern Methodist 30-0.

Royal had to be impressed with the way his youngsters performed.

"I thought this was an especially tough game physically," he said. "We got into hot water early in the second half when we blew an assignment, lost yardage and threw an interception."

"But after we goofed and UCLA scored, we came back with a 23-play touchdown drive and when you have that many plays without a fumble, penalty or interception it shows you're jelling."

Isn't that great news for the rest of the Southwest Conference? Michigan outdid Texas, piling up 495 rushing yards against hapless Virginia with sophomore Ed Shuttlesworth accounting for 104 and Billy Taylor adding 89. The Wolverines cleared their bench, using five quarterbacks and 15 ball-carriers.

Nebraska's Jerry Tagge hit flashy Johnny Rodgers with touchdown passes of 23, two and 37 yards and Minnesota's Murray Warmath, who was leery of the Cornhuskers' ground game, commented: "We didn't expect them to execute or throw that well. We just got beaten by a good football team. I don't think they are going to be beaten."

Among the Second Ten, No. 11 Georgia got its offense in gear for 10 fourth-period points and a 17-7 victory over Tulane. Colorado, No. 12, ripped Wyoming 56-13 with little Joe Duenas scoring three touchdowns and passing for one.

Don Bunce, Jim Plunkett's successor at No. 13 Stanford, passed for three quick scores late in the first half en route to

Atomic Ends Race Season

Atomic Speedway has reluctantly called it quits after being weathered out on a third try to run the season championship. Wet grounds caused track officials to call the scheduled Saturday night race for the eighth time of the season.

A special effort was made to run the race because of the closeness of the point standings in both race classifications used in disbursing bonus money to the driver.

In the super modified class the final leader is George Harbour of Apple Grove, W. Va., with 224 points, followed by three Chillicotheans, Joe Frazier 203, Spike Spears 194 and Jim Meeker 191 and Sam Erwin of Portsmouth 179.

Bob Crace of Chillicothe is the super stock leader with 247, followed by Dick French of Jackson 238, Skip Waterman of Columbus 236, Joe Teeters of Waverly 224 and Bob Stanhope of Chillicothe 208.

Leatherwood Wins Cox Event

Ron Leatherwood's low gross of 70 captured honors in A flight of the Cox Memorial Golf Tournament held Sunday at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links.

Steve Helwage was second with a 76. Fred Perry and Ancel Ruggles tied for low net in A flight.

B. flight winners was Herb Pettibone with a 75. Cloyce Smith was second with a 78. Low net honors in B flight were shared by Charlie Carr and Ken Hunt with 72s.

Asa Elsea's 85 was the low gross score in C. Flight. Charles Gillespie shot an 88 for second. Low net was won by Bill Barthelmas with a 76. Jake Bailey had second low net score with a 77.

Orioles Bomb Tigers, 8-1; Widen AL Division Lead

By ED SCHULYER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles solved a three-game losing streak by lashing out with 18 hits for eight runs. Of course, there wasn't any pressure on them.

"How can there be pressure when we're that far out front," Manager Earl Weaver said Sunday after the Orioles bombed the Detroit Tigers 8-1. "If it goes down to three or four in the loss column, there might be pressure."

If the Orioles had lost their fourth in a row, their American League East lead over the Tigers would have been four games. Now it is six.

But while Weaver wasn't feeling any pressure, he wasn't feeling cocky either. "... It's still not over. Our work is still cut out for us—but there's no pressure."

The benefactor of the Orioles' best hitting attack of the season, which snapped the Tigers' seven-game winning streak, was Mike Cuellar, 19-9, who pitched a no-hitter for 5 1-3 innings and finished with a four-hitter.

The two runs that decided the game came in the Baltimore fifth on RBI singles by Frank Robinson and Boog Powell. Bobby Grich and Dave Johnson each had three hits and Brooks Robinson hit his 19th homer of the year.

In other AL action, Oakland downed Milwaukee 6-2, California nipped the Chicago White Sox 2-0, Boston edged Washington 4-3, the New York Yankees shaded Cleveland 3-2 and Minnesota topped Kansas City 6-3 before the Royals gained a split by winning 5-2.

Oakland's victory over Milwaukee was the 55th on the road for the West champion A's and broke the AL mark of 54 set by the 1939 New York Yankees in 154 games. The majors record is 60 by the Chicago Cubs in 1960. A three-run homer by Mike Epstein and the first in the majors by rookie Adrian Garrett sparked the A's.

Cleveland Indian Overhaul Predicted

NEW YORK (AP) — Gabe Paul, president of the Cleveland Indians, says the baseball club needs an overhaul, "not just some tinkering with parts."

He carefully avoided an interview here Sunday any hint of his thinking concerning the rehiring of Manager Johnny Ligon, who took the helm when Alvin Dark was fired July 30.

"A decision will be made at the end of the season," he said. Paul said improving the defense, adding to the team's power and balancing of the pitching staff will be top priorities in trade talks.

British Show Strong In Ryder Cup Race

ST. LOUIS (AP) — America has retained its grip on the Ryder Cup but none other than golf's latest superstar, Lee Trevino, believes the British are coming.

Trevino, a modern Paul Revere, sounded the warning after a U.S. team studded with the game's biggest names fought off Great Britain 18½-13½ in cup matches ending Saturday.

"The difference was just two or three matches," said non-playing captain Jay Hebert, whose U.S. team won seven of 16 closing singles matches and tied three others.

COX WINNER — Ron Leatherwood fired a low gross of 70 to win the Cox Memorial Golf Tournament sponsored by Circleville Jaycees at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links Sunday. Jake Bailey, Jaycee president, presents Leatherwood with the championship trophy.

Longhorns Batter UCLA, 28-10

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas Longhorns, who were the top-ranked college football team in the country until mid-afternoon last New Year's Day, apparently have their sights set on a return to the heights.

Darrell Royal's sophomore-spiced club, ranked third behind Nebraska and Notre Dame in last week's Associated Press poll, opened its season impressively Saturday with a 28-10 road victory over UCLA. Barreling over land like the longhorn steers for which they are nicknamed, the Texans gulped down 428 yards rushing from their fearsome wishbone attack. Upsets Mark Pro Grid Season Opening

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Rookie quarterbacks Jim Plunkett and Archie Manning made spectacular pro debuts to spice an incredible opening Sunday in the National Football League.

Plunkett and Manning, the No. 1 and No. 2 picks in last January's pro draft, led the New England Patriots and New Orleans Saints to the two most startling upsets on an opening day replete with surprises.

Plunkett, the Heisman Trophy winner from Stanford, threw two touchdown passes as the Patriots stunned the Oakland Raiders 20-6.

Manning, who starred for Mississippi in college, sprinted around left end from the one on the last play of the game, to give the Saints an astounding 24-20 upset over the Los Angeles Rams.

Another rookie, cornerback Tom Hayes, from San Diego State, played a major role as the Atlanta Falcons humbled the favored San Francisco 49ers 20-17.

In other surprises the San Diego Chargers whipped the Kansas City Chiefs 21-14, the New York Giants edged the Green Bay Packers 42-40, the Washington Redskins overcame the St. Louis Cardinals 24-17, the Chicago Bears tripped the Pittsburgh Steelers 17-15, the Cleveland Browns routed the Houston Oilers 31-0 and the Denver Broncos held the Miami Dolphins to a 10-10 tie.

Elsewhere, form stood up as the Super Bowl champion Baltimore Colts whacked the New York Jets 22-0, the Dallas Cowboys, the only unbeaten, untied club in the preseason schedule, downed the Buffalo Bills 49-37 and the Cincinnati Bengals trampled the Philadelphia Eagles 37-14.

"Now we're winners and we want to keep it that way," said

an elated Plunkett after his two TD passes in the second half upset the Raiders. His first scoring pass was a 33-yarder to Ron Sellers and the second a 20-yarder to Tom Beer.

Before his toss to Beer on a fake handoff Plunkett had set up the play with a 39-yard aerial to Randy Vataha.

"I might have made a mistake, but I never really thought about the pass," said Manning after his winning end run against the Rams on a pass-option play.

"I thought 'only one yard' and doggone it I knew I was going to get good blocking," Manning continued. "I saw a crack and dove and I knew I got over."

Manning had completed three passes for 42 yards to set up his winning sprint and give the Saints their first NFL victory after 12 consecutive losses.

Four interceptions of John Brodie passes, coupled with two Atlanta scoring passes from Bob Berry to Ken Burrow, helped the Falcons upset the 49ers.

But it was the rookie "Mr. Hayes" as coach Norm Van Brocklin called him, that preserved the Falcons' triumph. He scooped up a fumble in the last three seconds on a play that erupted into a brawl as players from both benches spilled onto the field.

"I guess I started it," said Hayes who earlier had made two key interceptions. "One guy hit me when I was falling. I threw the ball at him because he hit me after the whistle. Then the fists started swinging everywhere."

BGSU, Lamport Turn Back Ohio U In Opener, 20-19

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bowling Green Coach Don Nehlen had high praise for sophomore quarterback Reid Lamport's performance in the Falcons' 20-19 Mid-American football victory over Ohio University Saturday.

"He came through super and no one could have done a better job," Nehlen exclaimed.

The signal caller from Newton Falls, a "process of elimination" choice to start after Bowling Green's first two quarterbacks were hurt in practice, hit 13 of 20 passes for 162 yards and one touchdown.

It was the first game of the season for both teams.

Nehlen said it was a "big, big victory," for his young team, dotted with nine starting sophomores.

Ohio led 13-10 at halftime, but Bowling Green tied it up in the third period on a field goal by Bill Witte and went ahead 20-13 in the final period on a two-yard run by Jerry Fields.

The Bobcats scored again late in the game but missed a chance to win when quarterback Dave Juenger was tackled trying a keeper for two extra points.

No other Mid-American conference games were played Saturday.

Toledo, playing outside the league, upped its winning streak — the longest in the nation — to 25 by edging Villanova 10-7, while Kent State was humiliated by Cincinnati 42-20, and Miami defeated Taylor, Ind., 23-7, and Adrian, Mich., stopped De fiance 30-7.

Akron blanked Butler 24-0 behind the sparking performance of sophomore quarterback Eric Shock, who ran for 128 yards and completed four of six passes, one for a touchdown.

In other games, Ashland whipped Capital 20-7; Baldwin-Wallace drubbed Hillsdale, Mich., 31-10; West Liberty, W. Va., came from behind to beat Muskingum 20-7; Western Kentucky clobbered Wittenberg 33-7, and Findlay blanked Oberlin 21-0.

Slippery Rock, Pa., turned back Mount Union 17-0; Denison crushed Centre 34-0; John Carroll routed Case Western Reserve 33-7; Westminster, Pa., beat Marietta 26-0; Bluffton defeated Taylor, Ind., 23-7, and Adrian, Mich., stopped De fiance 30-7.

2 Big Auto Races Stopped By Rain, Fog

By BLOYS BRITT

AP Auto Racing Writer

Two stock car races that will have important bearing on driving championships were postponed Sunday because of rain.

The Pennsylvania 500 at Mount Pocono, Pa., ran 102.5 miles in a dense fog before rain finally shut the course down with polesitter Butch Hartman of Zanesville, Ohio, in the lead.

The 250-mile Wilkes 400 at North Wilkesboro, N.C., never got off the ground as rain flooded the five-eighths of a mile oval during Saturday night and Sunday morning. A starting field of 32 cars had been qualified for the race, led by Charlie Glotzbach's 106.428 miles per hour in a Chevrolet.

The North Wilkesboro race will be run Oct. 31.

The Pennsylvania 500 will be restarted at 1 p.m. Saturday with the drivers lining up in the positions they held when the halt came 55 minutes after the flagoff.

the first half snapped a 7-all deadlock, led the way with 142 yards on 20 carries and scored once himself.

Texas, however, probably will have a tough time closing in on the leaders when this week's poll is counted. Nebraska, No. 1, trounced Minnesota 35-7 and runner-up Notre Dame thrashed Northwestern 50-7.

Fifth-ranked Ohio State was idle but the rest of the Top Ten continued on their merry way behind offensive fireworks galore. Michigan, rated fourth, battered crippled Virginia 56-0 and sixth-ranked Arkansas downed a talented young Oklahoma State club 31-10.

The Nos. 7-8 teams, Auburn and Tennessee, warmed up for their important Southeastern Conference battle next weekend by crushing UT-Chattanooga and UC-Santa Barbara, respectively, 60-7 and 4-6. Alabama, No. 9, buried Southern Mississippi 42-6 and 10th-ranked Oklahoma whipped Southern Methodist 30-0.

Royal had to be impressed with the way his youngsters performed.

"I thought this was an especially tough game physically," he said. "We got into hot water early in the second half when we blew an assignment, lost yardage and threw an interception."

But after we goofed and UCLA scored, we came back with a 23-play touchdown drive and when you have that many plays without a fumble, penalty or interception it shows you're jelling."

Isn't that great news for the rest of the Southwest Conference? Michigan outdid Texas, piling up 495 rushing yards against hapless Virginia with sophomore Ed Shuttlesworth accounting for 104 and Billy Taylor adding 89. The Wolverines cleared their bench, using five quarterbacks and 15 ball-carriers.

Nebraska's Jerry Tagge hit flashy Johnny Rodgers with touchdown passes of 23, two and 37 yards and Minnesota's Murray Warmath, who was leery of the Cornhuskers' ground game, commented: "We didn't expect them to execute or throw that well. We just got beaten by a good football team. I don't think they are going to be beaten."

Among the Second Ten, No. 11 Georgia got its offense in gear for 10 fourth-period points and a 17-7 victory over Tulane. Colorado, No. 12, ripped Wyoming 56-13 with little Joe Duenas scoring three touchdowns and passing for one.

Don Bunce, Jim Plunkett's successor at No. 13 Stanford, passed for three quick scores late in the first half en route to a 38-3 triumph over Army. Lyndell Mitchell led the No. 14 Penn State past Navy 56-3 by scoring five times. Syracuse, No. 15, tied Wisconsin in the final minute but had the conversion attempt blocked by Ed Albright.

Arizona State, No. 15, nipped No. 20 Houston 18-17 on Don Ekstrand's 46-yard field goal with 19 seconds left. Southern California, No. 17, intercepted five passes in blanking Rice 24-0. Georgia Tech checked No. 18 Michigan State 10-0 and Duke toppled No. 19 South Carolina 28-12 as Ernie Jackson scored on a 74-yard punt return and 30-yard interception.

Atomic Ends Race Season

Atomic Speedway has reluctantly called it quits after being weathered out on a third try to run the season championship. Wet grounds caused track officials to call the scheduled Saturday night race for the eighth time of the season.

A special effort was made to run the race because of the closeness of the point standings in both race classifications used in disbursing bonus money to the driver.

In the super modified class the final leader is George Harbour of Apple Grove, W. Va., with 224 points, followed by three Chillicotheans, Joe Frazier 203, Spike Spears 194 and Jim Meeker 191 and Sam Erwin of Portsmouth 179.

Bob Crace of Chillicothe is the super stock leader with 247, followed by Dick French of Jackson 238, Skip Waterman of Columbus 236, Joe Teeters of Waverly 224 and Bob Stanhope of Chillicothe 208.

Leatherwood Wins Cox Event

Ron Leatherwood's low gross of 70 captured honors in A flight of the Cox Memorial Golf Tournament held Sunday at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links.

Steve Helwagen was second with a 76. Fred Perry and Ancel Ruggles tied for low net in A Flight.

B. flight winners were Herb Pettibone with a 75. Cloyce Smith was second with a 78. Low net honors in B flight were shared by Charlie Carr and Ken Hunt with 72s.

Asa Elsea's 85 was the low gross score in C. Flight. Charles Gillespie shot an 88 for second. Low net was won by Bill Barthelmas with a 76. Jake Bailey had second low net score with a 77.

COX WINNER — Ron Leatherwood fired a low gross of 70 to win the Cox Memorial Golf Tournament sponsored by Circleville Jaycees at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links Sunday. Jake Bailey, Jaycee president, presents Leatherwood with the championship trophy.

90-Yard Jackpot Gamble Gives Bengals 37-14 Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Never

much of a gambler, Paul Brown took a football risk Sunday and his Cincinnati Bengals reaped a 90-yard jackpot.

"I guess we took a little gamble on that pass," said Brown of the 90-yard bomb Virgil Carter rifled to Speedy Thomas, a club record that triggered the Bengals to a 37-14 opening National Football League romp over the Philadelphia Eagles.

It was one of three club marks for the defending Central Division champions. They rolled up 532 total yards and held the Eagles to 39 rushing yards for the other records.

The Bengals voted Carter the game ball for his three touchdown tosses, 22 of 30 passes for 273 yards and the big play that shot Cincinnati into a 17-7 lead in the third period.

Carter sucked in the Eagles defense with a fake to Essex Johnson, then passed to a wide open Thomas at the Bengals 24. The Cincinnati wide receiver outran Al Nelson and Leroy Keyes on the second-and-nine play.

"I didn't think I'd be that open," said Thomas, "but I'll take it anytime I can get it."

Nelson admitted Carter's fake caught him. "I blew it. I should have had coverage. I just got sucked in," said the Philadelphia cornerback.

"That took a lot of the spark away from us," said Eagles Coach Jerry Williams, whose club trailed by a mere 10-7 at halftime.

"The pass changed the game around," agreed Brown. The Bengals scored all three times they had the ball in the telltale third quarter for a 27-7 lead.

Yankees Hold Key In Pennant Races

NEW YORK (AP) — Although they were mathematically eliminated last week, the New York Yankees suddenly find themselves involved in two races.

"Pennant races," Ralph Houk calls them, just to make it sound like old times.

The Yanks, who nipped the Cleveland Indians 3-2 Sunday to sweep a four-game series, play host to Baltimore for three games starting tonight and the Orioles' once-imposing lead in the American League East is down to six games over Detroit, still comfortable but a little losing streak could make it really tight.

The one-mile Freehold, N. J., pacing record of 1:58.2 was set by Honest Story, driven by Ed Cobb, in 1970.

ATHLETICS READY FOR ORIOLES—With pitcher Vida Blue heading the cast, the Oakland Athletics are getting ready to meet the Baltimore Orioles in the A.L. playoff for the pennant, each club virtually sewing up the division crown already. Manager Dick Williams plans to start Blue in the first game, which will be played in Baltimore October 2. Catfish Hunter and Chuck Dobson are other leading pitchers for the series.

LA Blanks Atlanta; Giants Win

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"That was a tough act to follow," Don Sutton smiled.

The act was Al Downing's three-hitter, his fourth shutout of the year, in Los Angeles' 12-0 first-game romp over Atlanta.

But Sutton followed it with ease, spinning a six-hitter that beat the Braves 4-0 in the finale of Sunday's doubleheader and kept the pressure on San Francisco in the National League West.

The sweep—the Dodgers' first twin-bill blanking in nearly three years—all but wiped out Atlanta's hopes of catching the California clubs.

The two triumphs, coupled with San Francisco's 4-1 victory over San Diego, snapped half a game off the Giants' lead, putting them just 1½ games ahead of the Dodgers. The Braves, who trailed by a massive 12½ games just two weeks ago before closing within 5½ of the top, wound up seven games off the pace after the double drubbing.

In other National League games, the New York Mets downed Pittsburgh 5-2, St. Louis slammed Montreal 11-0, the Chicago Cubs beat Philadelphia 6-3 and Houston defeated Cincinnati 5-4 in 11 innings.

"If we'd had anything less than a sweep," Sutton said, "it would have really put the pressure on us. By being one-and-a-half back, we can catch the Giants in a day or two. Anything more would've really been tough."

Downing has been the Dodgers' biggest surprise of the season. The victory was his 19th of the season—so, naturally, everyone asked how he felt about joining the 20-win club.

"Winning 20 means a lot, sure," he replied, "but winning the pennant means a lot more. But if I do get 20 it means another win for the club, so in that respect I guess it does mean a lot."

Willie Davis drilled two singles, a double and a home run, driving in three runs that snapped Los Angeles out of a four-game tailspin.

"We had our backs against the wall, so we had to come through," he commented. "We're not laying down at all." The Dodgers came through overwhelmingly, unleashing a 19-hit attack, their biggest out-pout of the season.

They collected 10 in the second game, including a homer by Duke Sims, but it was Willie Crawford's daring baserunning that really thrilled the 46,735 Dodgers fans.

With two out in the second inning, he stole home after doubling and moving to third on Jim Lefebvre's run-scoring grounder. Then, after singling with two away in the sixth, Lefebvre singled to right and Crawford stunned the Braves by steaming home all the way from first.

Los Angeles will finish its season at home while the Giants play their remaining nine games on the road—but San Francisco Manager Charlie Fox said that doesn't mean a thing.

"They're all tough now," he said. "I don't think anyone has an advantage. No game is going to be easy. This one sure wasn't."

The Giants won it on Hal Lanier's high-hopping bounce that soared over charging second baseman Don Mason for a two-run single in the second inning, wiping out a 1-0 Padres lead provided by Ollie Brown's first-inning single.

Daybook of America 1771...1871...1971

By CLARK KINNAIRD

No. 106 The year has centennials of initial editions of sequels or follow-ups to three books that, coupled with the originals, were to immortalize the authors: Lewis Carroll's Through the Looking Glass, Louisa Alcott's Little Men, Charles Darwin's The Descent of Man and Selections in Relations to Sex.

In the latter, Darwin elaborated on theories set forth a dozen years earlier in The Origin of the Species by Means of Natural Selection, or the Preservation of Favoured Races in the Struggle for Life, and fired furious controversy anew — particularly in the United States.

There were overtones in France, where Clemence Auguste Royer, an assertive crusader for tax reform and economic equality for women, had translated Darwin for publication and, in the view of admirers and herself, had stripped his theory of confusing details and made it crystal clear—in assertion that women and men should always have been considered as being on the same level in all respects.

It was obviously a different tack Louisa Alcott took so popularly in her autobiographical Little Women (1869) and the follow-up, Little Men, though she did champion women's suffrage.

Thomas Nast diverted himself from attacks in 1871 with cartoons that were destructive of W. M. Tweed's political powers in U.S. with cartoons on controversy bestirred by Darwin theses. In this (←) he has gorilla weeping because Darwin (at right) induced belief that apes and men were related.

Astros Beat Cincy Reds

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Back in May when Joe Morgan was leading the Astros in home runs, he said, "If I lead the club in home runs this year, we're going to finish fifth in our division."

Morgan celebrated his 28th birthday, Sunday by clubbing reliever Clay Carroll's first pitch in the bottom of the 11th inning for a home run, bringing the Astros a 5-4 victory Sunday over the Cincinnati Reds.

It was the second sacker's 13th homer this season — and he is still leading the club in home runs. And although the Astros may not finish fifth in the National League West, they may not be too far away from it in fourth.

Despite taking two-of-three from the Reds, the Astros were eliminated from the race Sunday. They are 10 games behind the San Francisco Giants with nine games to go.

Morgan's homer made a winner of reliever Fred Gladding, now 4-4 and gave Carroll a 9-4 record.

Jim Merritt, loser of his first 11 decisions, had cruised into the seventh inning with a 4-1 lead. The bulk of his lead was the result of Johnny Bench's three-run homer — his 25th — off rookie Scipio Spinks in the third.

Austin Carr Hurt

KIRTLAND, Ohio (AP) — The broken right foot of Austin Carr poses numerous problems and several alternatives for Cleveland Cavaliers Head Coach Bill Fitch.

The Cavs' No. 1 draft choice last spring suffered the injury when he came down on his foot with a rebound and turned in the opposite direction during a Saturday night scrimmage at Lakeland Community College.

Tiger Reserves Dump TV Vikings

The Circleville football reserves topped the Teays Valley reserve squad 38-6 Saturday morning at the CHS field in a game that was a replay of Friday's clash between the two schools.

In the Friday tilt, the Tiger Varsity was held immobile for the first half, but went on to smash the Vikings 36-6.

The young Tigers watched the Vikings put six points on the scoreboard Saturday in the first period, and finally countered with a TD of their own as Mike Speakman streaked 60 yards around left end to knot the game. Quarterback Dave Mehlick passed to Eddy Richter and gave the Tigers an 8-6 halftime edge.

The Tiger offense came to its own in the third period as Mehlick scored on a 37 yard scamper around the right side and a five-yard run. Dave Pontious powered for five-years and a score and Wade Camp bulldozed over from the three yard line.

Mehlick completed the scoring by tossing extra point passes to Randy Young, John Ankrom and Dennis Huston.

Tiger Reserves, 1-1 for the year, travel to Chillicothe next Saturday, 10 a.m.

LA Blanks Atlanta; Giants Win

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"That was a tough act to follow," Don Sutton smiled.

The act was Al Downing's three-hitter, his fourth shutout of the year, in Los Angeles' 12-0 first-game romp over Atlanta.

But Sutton followed it with ease, spinning a six-hitter that beat the Braves 4-0 in the finale of Sunday's doubleheader and kept the pressure on San Francisco in the National League West.

The sweep—the Dodgers' first twin-bill blanking in nearly three years—all but wiped out Atlanta's hopes of catching the California clubs.

The two triumphs, coupled with San Francisco's 4-1 victory over San Diego, snapped half a game off the Giants' lead, putting them just 1½ games ahead of the Dodgers. The Braves, who trailed by a massive 12½ games just two weeks ago before closing within 5½ of the top, wound up seven games off the pace after the double drubbing.

In other National League games, the New York Mets downed Pittsburgh 5-2. St. Louis slammed Montreal 11-0, the Chicago Cubs beat Philadelphia 6-3 and Houston defeated Cincinnati 5-4 in 11 innings.

"If we'd had anything less than a sweep," Sutton said, "it would have really put the pressure on us. By being one-and-a-half back, we can catch the Giants in a day or two. Anything more would've really been tough."

Downing has been the Dodgers' biggest surprise of the season. The victory was his 19th of the season—so, naturally, everyone asked how he felt about joining the 20-win club.

"Winning 20 means a lot, sure," he replied, "but winning the pennant means a lot more. But if I do get 20 it means another win for the club, so in that respect I guess it does mean a lot."

Willie Davis drilled two singles, a double and a home run, driving in three runs that snapped Los Angeles out of a four-game tailspin.

"We had our backs against

No. 106 The year has centennials of initial editions of sequels or follow-ups to three books that, coupled with the originals, were to immortalize the authors: Lewis Carroll's Through the Looking Glass, Louisa Alcott's Little Men, Charles Darwin's The Descent of Man and Selection in Relation to Sex.

In the latter, Darwin elaborated on theories set forth a dozen years earlier in The Origin of the Species by Means of Natural Selection, or the Preservation of Favoured Races in the Struggle for Life, and fired furious controversy anew — particularly in the United States.

There were overtones in France, where Clemence Auguste Royer, an assertive crusader for tax reform and economic equality for women, had translated Darwin for publication and, in the view of admirers and herself, had stripped his theory of confusing details and made it crystal clear—in assertion that women and men should always have been considered as being on the same level in all respects.

It was obviously a different tack Louisa Alcott took so popularly in her autobiographical Little Women (1869) and the follow-up, Little Men, though she did champion women's suffrage.

Thomas Nast diverted himself from attacks in 1871 with cartoons that were destructive of W. M. Tweed's political powers in U.S. with cartoons on controversy bestirred by Darwin theses. In this (left) he has gorilla weeping because Darwin (at right) induced belief that apes and men were related.

Astros Beat Cincy Reds

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Back in May when Joe Morgan was leading the Astros in home runs, he said, "If I lead the club in home runs this year, we're going to finish fifth in our division."

Morgan celebrated his 28th birthday, Sunday by clubbing reliever Clay Carroll's first pitch in the bottom of the 11th inning for a home run, bringing the Astros a 5-4 victory Sunday over the Cincinnati Reds.

It was the second sacker's 13th homer this season and he is still leading the club in home runs. And although the Astros may not finish fifth in the National League West, they may not be too far away from it in fourth.

Despite taking two-of-three from the Reds, the Astros were eliminated from the race Sunday. They are 10 games behind the San Francisco Giants with nine games to go.

Morgan's homer made a winner of reliever Fred Gladding, now 4-4 and gave Carroll a 9-4 record.

Jim Merritt, loser of his first 11 decisions, had cruised into the seventh inning with a 4-1 lead. The bulk of his lead was the result of Johnny Bench's three-run homer — his 25th — off rookie Scipio Spinks in the third.

Tiger Reserves Dump TV Vikings

The Circleville football reserves topped the Teays Valley reserve squad 38-6 Saturday morning at the CHS field in a game that was a replay of Friday's clash between the two schools.

In the Friday tilt, the Tiger Varsity was held immobile for the first half, but went on to smash the Vikings 36-6.

The young Tigers watched the Vikings put six points on the scoreboard Saturday in the first period, and finally countered with a TD of their own as Mike Speakman streaked 60 yards around left end to knot the game. Quarterback Dave Mehlick passed to Eddy Richter and gave the Tigers an 8-6 halftime edge.

The Tiger offense came to its own in the third period as Mehlick scored on a 37 yard scamper around the right side and a five-yard run. Dave Pontious powered for five-years and a score and Wade Camp bulldozed over from the three yard line.

Mehlick completed the scoring by tossing extra point passes to Randy Young, John Ankrom and Dennis Huston.

Henderson Court - Martial To Hear Copter Crewmen

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — Lawyers for Col. Oran K. Henderson sought today to prevent the prosecution from presenting a key witness on grounds that his identification of Henderson "was completely and thoroughly tainted by the government."

As a result of the defense move, a hearing was convened without the jury to question the witness, Lawrence M. Colburn.

Henry B. Rothblatt, Henderson's chief lawyer, said Colburn had been unable to identify Henderson as the officer who interrogated him about My Lai when Colburn was called before an Army board of inquiry.

Subsequently, Rothblatt said, Colburn saw Henderson and again could not identify him but at a hearing later—with Henderson in the room—made a positive identification.

Rothblatt accused the government of "suggesting, twisting and turning the testimony of this witness" with a "highly improper and dirty suggestion."

Colburn and Capt. Hugh C. Thompson figure in two of the four charges against Henderson.

Thompson is the helicopter pilot who came back from his flight after My Lai to report the killing of civilians and Colburn, his door gunner, rescued a living child from a pile of bodies in a ditch.

In one count, Henderson is charged with failing to investigate reports "of excessive killing of noncombatants and a confrontation between a helicopter pilot and ground forces of his command."

Thompson, according to previous testimony, was that pilot.

Another charge states Henderson was lying when he swore to an Army investigating committee "that he was positive he did not talk to W. O. Jerry R. Culverhouse or Spec. Lawrence M. Colburn on or about 18 March 1968."

Culverhouse testified Friday he was questioned by an officer but could not say if it was Henderson.

March 18, two days after My Lai, was the day when witnesses said Henderson received orders to investigate what happened in the village.

Charleston Bridge Falls

CHARLESTON (AP) — A 30-foot section of a battered highway bridge in downtown Charleston slipped from its abutment and fell into the Elk River today.

There were no apparent injuries. Major water main and power lines serving a portion of the city were snapped when one-third of the bridge which carries U.S. 21 plunged into the swirling river.

Collapse of the bridge came six days after about 10 barges and two larger boats broke loose from up-river moorings and slammed into the bridge's structure, damaging several I-beams and suspension bars.

The bridge was closed last week after the accident.

The downfall of the bridge was not apparently caused by the collision, but from erosion of the river's east bank which left the bridge abutment with no support.

$40 Million In Heroin Is Seized

NEW YORK (AP) — "Obviously the work of top professionals," said the head of the federal narcotics bureau, describing the discovery of 200 pounds of heroin valued at $40 million concealed in an imported Jaguar car.

Agents seized the cache and arrested five persons on narcotics smuggling charges Sunday in what was termed the second-largest heroin seizure ever made in the city.

John E. Ingersoll, director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, said the car arrived here last Wednesday aboard the Queen Elizabeth 2.

He said the heroin was packed in half-kilo glassine bags that were hidden under a false floorboard, filled an empty section of the transmission and were stuffed in hollow compartments in the doors.

"It appeared as if they had put the heroin in and then built the car around it," said one agent.

"This is obviously the work of top professionals, because by outside examination you could not tell that the car had been dismantled to secrete the heroin," Ingersoll said.

Charged with conspiracy to smuggle drugs were Jean Pierre Andre Huguen, 36, of Marseille; Etienne Charles Gunther and his wife Raymond, both 33, of Paris; and two Cuban refugees, George Warren-Perez, 48, and Luis Gomez Ortega, 37, both of whom now live in North Bergen, N.J.

The largest heroin seizure in New York City was 246 pounds taken in 1968.

After the cultural revolution subsided Peking muted those demands. It continued to criticize what it called the superpowers' "voting machine" and picture the United Nations as a site for backstage collusion between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Now, however, China might decide to forget about the more radical demands and concentrate on the real opportunities.

Armed with the veto power of a permanent member, Peking could immobilize the Security Council at will to thwart any peacekeeping effort or prevent any meaningful action. Or if it chose, it could throw weighty support behind small nations and try to force strong action in certain circumstances.

Bright Colors To Prevail As New U.N. Session Opens

By SHIRLEY CHRISTIAN
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly often has the look of a fashion show.

It will be evident Tuesday when the several hundred delegates step off the escalator from the delegates' entrance and walk into the hall for the assembly's 26th session.

There'll be delegates from palaces and delegates from South Sea islands, women in saris and women in pantsuits, men in pin stripes and maybe, men in feathers.

African delegations give the most color to the pageantry. Liberia's Angie Brooks, president of the assembly in 1969, is apt to cover her ample figure with a long costume of gay print called a lappa, plus plenty of pendants, bracelets and earrings.

Seven members of the Swaziland delegation arrived one year in red, black and white robes that bared their left shoulders to below the armpit. Three had feathers in their hair.

They almost didn't make it when New York police spotted them heading this way. They were held until the U.S. delegation vouched for them.

Paul Bamela Engo of Cameroon wore robes of white, turquoise and other bright colors flowing from his shoulders throughout the last assembly. But when he rose to speak the sounds were pure Oxford.

People have come in red togas, bone necklaces, Moroccan caftans—and barefoot.

Though they won't be here for this opening, the mainland Chinese—when they come—can wear just about anything they like, even the "little blue suit."

It will be the first appearance of Mao couture. Tanzanian delegates have long worn a collarless version of it.

Rogers, Gromyko To Meet Friday For Major Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers plans to go to the United Nations Friday for talks with Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko and other foreign ministers as the General Assembly takes up China's seat and a successor to retiring Secretary General U. Thant.

Efforts to trim the soaring U.N. budget, reform of the world body's economic policy and heading off some extreme anti-South African proposals also rank high.

The Mideast rates priority too. But Rogers is looking toward backstage talks with the Israelis, Egyptians and others to produce enough progress to ward off a heads-on U.N. confrontation over the issue.

With Gromyko, the Secretary of State intends to run through a lengthening list of items ranging from the Middle East to the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT).

The SALT negotiators made some headway at Helsinki this summer but more political decision making is needed before the superpowers achieve their avowed goal of a limitation on anti-ballistic missiles (ABMs) and offensive missiles by the end of this year.

Meanwhile the two sides are preparing to announce side agreements on modernizing the Washington-Moscow hot line and on prompt consultation in case of nuclear accidents.

U.S. Nuclear Edge Gone?

WARRENTON, Va. (AP) — The United States could fall behind the Soviet Union in military strength within two years if Congress cuts Pentagon spending, says Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

"I can assure you we are not going to be able to decrease military spending," Laird told newsmen Saturday at the conclusion of a two-day conference attended by top Pentagon military and civilian officials.

Laird said the Soviet Union has achieved tremendous momentum in its nuclear weapons growth and could be militarily stronger than the United States by 1973 if his proposed defense budget of about $80 billion for the year that begins next July 1 is cut even two or three per cent.

Laird did not elaborate on the basis for his statement about Russia's "tremendous momentum," the strongest such statement he has made about Soviet gains.

But Pentagon sources said he was referring to bigger-than-expected growth in Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles and missile-firing submarines.

Efforts to trim the soaring U.N. budget, reform of the world body's economic policy and heading off some extreme anti-South African proposals also rank high.

The Mideast rates priority too. But Rogers is looking toward backstage talks with the Israelis, Egyptians and others to produce enough progress to ward off a heads-on U.N. confrontation over the issue.

With Gromyko, the Secretary of State intends to run through a lengthening list of items ranging from the Middle East to the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT).

The SALT negotiators made some headway at Helsinki this summer but more political decision making is needed before the superpowers achieve their avowed goal of a limitation on anti-ballistic missiles, (ABMs) and offensive missiles by the end of this year.

Meanwhile the two sides are preparing to announce side agreements on modernizing the Washington-Moscow hot line and on prompt consultation in case of nuclear accidents.

U.S. Nuclear Edge Gone?

WARRENTON, Va. (AP) — The United States could fall behind the Soviet Union in military strength within two years if Congress cuts Pentagon spending, says Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

"I can assure you we are not going to be able to decrease military spending," Laird told newsmen Saturday at the conclusion of a two-day conference attended by top Pentagon military and civilian officials.

Laird said the Soviet Union has achieved tremendous momentum in its nuclear weapons growth and could be militarily stronger than the United States by 1973 if his proposed defense budget of about $80 billion for the year that begins next July 1 is cut even two or three per cent.

Laird did not elaborate on the basis for his statement about Russia's "tremendous momentum," the strongest such statement he has made about Soviet gains.

But Pentagon sources said he was referring to bigger-than-expected growth in Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles and missile-firing submarines.
